PUBLIC.

Simla, the 2nd July 1903.

No. 2528.—The Governor-General in Council, with the previous sanction of His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, is pleased to direct that in the Notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 1324, dated the 2nd May 1902, for the words "Order of Merit" the words "Indian Order of Merit," and for the rules published therewith the following rules shall be substituted:

Rules for admission to the Civil Division of the Indian Order of Merit.

1. The "Indian Order of Merit" (Civil Division) consists of three classes, and is conferred on Natives of India, whether servants of Government or not, as a reward for personal bravery shown in aid or support of the public authority or safety. The insignia are, for the first class, gold; for the second, silver with a gold wreath; and for the third silver only; to be worn on the left breast, pendent from a dark-red ribbon with blue edges.

2. Admission to the third class is obtained by any conspicuous act of individual gallantry; admission to the second class can be obtained only by members of the third class, and for a similar act of gallantry; and, in like manner, the Order of the first class is conferred only on members of the second class. In recommending persons for admission to the Order, the act of gallantry must be particularly specified, and the statements of eye-witnesses to the deed must be attached. It is of the highest importance, in view to maintaining the value and prestige of the Order, that the greatest discretion shall be used in submitting recommendations; as it is very desirable that the distinction should only be granted for conduct which can clearly be defined as an act of conspicuous gallantry.

3. Admission to each class of the Order rests with the Government of India alone; and, when the act of gallantry has taken place in india, recommendations for the reward will be forwarded for submission to the Government of India, in the case of civilians through the District Officers to the Local Government, and in the case of native officers and soldiers through the usual military channels.

4. A record in each case of the particular act of gallantry for which the Order has been conferred is kept in the office of the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department; and a certificate signed by him, declaring the grant of the Order, will be given to each individual on his admission to, or advancement in, it.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 190, dated 6th June 1903, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 440 of 1903) that, on 1st August 1903, the undermentioned buoys will be established in the approach to Fremantle :—

(a) A red conical buoy will be moored about one cable to the northward of Roe reef off the north coast of Rottnest island, with Bathurst point lighthouse bearing S. 6° E., distant 11 cables, and the western extremity of North point S. 60° W. Approximate position, lat. 31° 58′ S., long. 115° 33′ E.

(b) A red conical buoy will be moored on the northern edge of Beagle rocks to the southward of the entrance to Swan river, with the lighthouse on the end of the south breakwater bearing N. 55° E., distant $2\frac{6}{10}$ cables, and the extremity of the North breakwater N. 27° W.

Also, that on the same date the following alterations will be made in the Pilot Service :—

The Pilot station on Bathurst point will be removed to the Telegraph and Signal station near Arthur's head.

The Pilot Signal station at Bathurst point lighthouse and the station at Thompson's bay and also the Pilot look-out station at the main lighthouse on Rottnest island have been discontinued. Vessels therefore requiring a pilot should make the signal for one to the signal station at the main lighthouse on Rottnest island, not to Bathurst point, as stated in the above-mentioned Notice, and proceed to the Pilot Boarding ground, which is about five miles to the eastward of Bathurst point, and there await the pilot sent from Fremantle.

In proceeding to the Pilots' Boarding ground vessels should not attempt to use the South passage, between Middle bank and Champion rock.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON COLONIAL EMIGRATION FOR THE YEAR 1902.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EMIGRATION.

Darjeeling, the 30th June 1903.

RESOLUTION—No. 1631.

READ—

The Annual Report on Emigration from the Port of Calcutta to British and Foreign Colonies for the year 1902.

1. Administrative measures.—The following important administrative measures were sanctioned during the year under report:—

(1) A proposal made by the officer administering the Government of Fiji that an Emigration Agency for that Colony should be established in the Madras Presidency was approved by the Government of India subject to certain conditions.

(2) It was decided to allow female emigrants to Mauritius to be engaged on indenture, on certain terms, for service in that Colony.

(3) The recruitment of Indian labourers for the Natal mines was permitted subject to specified conditions.

2. Requisition and despatch of labour.—The number of Agencies recruiting emigrants was one more than last year, recruiting for Jamaica, which was suspended in 1901, having been resumed during the year under report. Natal requisitioned and received the largest number of labourers, the number of emigrants requisitioned having risen from 770 in 1901 to 2,770 in the year under report. This is particularly noticeable, because there was a general decrease, in the year under review, both in the total demand and supply of labour for the Colonies, the demand for Demerara, in particular, having decreased from 4,000 to 2,000 labourers. The greater number of emigrants (nearly 63 per cent. of the whole number) were, as usual, recruited in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh. Recruiting operations were, for the first time, extended, during the year, to Ajmere, but only 63 emigrants were registered there.

3. Depôts.—Of the 13,898 emigrants who were received at the sub-depôts, 12,059 arrived in Calcutta; and, if emigrants who were recruited in the preceding year, persons readmitted from hospital after recovery, infants born during the year, and one orphan of a returned emigrant, be added to these, the total number accommodated in the depôts in Calcutta was 13,329, against 15,973 in 1901. The percentage of deaths in the depôts was slightly higher than in the preceding year, being ·65 against ·60. The percentage of rejections for unfitness, viz., 7·44, was smaller than in 1901, but the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Protector of Emigrants in thinking that the medical examination of emigrants at the sub-depôts is still capable of improvement: this matter will receive attention.

4. Embarkation of Emigrants.—During the year 10,882 emigrants, of whom 435 were returned emigrants, were embarked, against 11,951 in the year 1901, the largest number (2,907) being sent to Natal and the smallest number (786) to Mauritius.

5. Returned Emigrants and remittances from Immigrants in the Colonies.—(a) In all 4,236 emigrants returned to India from the Colonies, against 3,708 in the year 1901. Their aggregate savings amounted to Rs. 7,74,786-11-10, the average for each immigrant amounting to Rs. 182-14-5, against Rs. 165-10-2 in the preceding year. On the other hand, only 2,212, or 52·21 per cent. of the returned emigrants, brought back savings which ranged from one rupee upwards; while it is calculated that 893 adults, or 21·08 per cent. of the total number of returned emigrants, came back with no means at all.

(b) The resident immigrants in Natal (72,965 in number) again sent the largest remittances by money-order to India, the total amount so sent reaching nearly 16 lakhs. Since the year 1899, the average remittance from each resident immigrant in that Colony has risen from Rs. 5-15-3 to Rs. 21-12-2 in 1902, the last-named figure being ten times higher than the average remittance from Fiji and about thirty-five times higher than that from any other Colony. These figures, taken together with the high wages offered for labour in the mines, show that the prospects of the Indian immigrant are far brighter in Natal than in the other Colonies. The average remittances from Demerara and Mauritius were a little lower than last year, while those from the other Colonies show some improvement.

6. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Forsyth for his careful administration of the Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. EARLE,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1902, AND THE ANNUAL STATISTICAL RETURNS AND SHORT NOTES ON VACCINATION IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1902-1903.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—SANITATION.

RESOLUTION—No. 1462T. - M.

READ—

The Report of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for the year 1902.

Read also—

The Annual Statistical Returns and short Notes on Vaccination in Bengal for the year 1902-1903.

THE mortality in 1902 was greater than that in any year of the preceding decade except 1900. The first four months, from January to April, showed a considerable improvement over the two previous years, but in June the death-rate was abnormal, and in September it was much the highest on record. The seasonal variations exhibited by cholera in Bihar as usual presented a marked contrast to those observed in Bengal, and more especially in Eastern Bengal. In Bihar the mortality from cholera is usually greatest in the hot months, whereas in Bengal the cold weather is the fatal period. In the case of fever the heaviest mortality occurs at the close of the rains or the beginning of the cold weather, but there is a recrudescence, which is very marked in Bihar, about March or April. Such mutations would be more easily traced if the Divisional totals were inserted in those tables in which figures for each separate district are given. Small-pox, which claims the next largest number of victims after fever and cholera, pursued its customary course, gathering strength during the cold weather and then dying off gradually till the close of the rains. In those districts, however, where the people live in detached homesteads its incidence was slight, and, as has usually been the case in such localitities, no seasonal variations were discernible.

2. The vital statistics from 1894 onwards have been compiled on a uniform plan, and the figures for the different years may be accepted as sufficiently reliable for purposes of comparison inter se. These nine years, from 1894 to 1902, may be appropriately divided into three triennial periods. In the first of these, from 1894 to 1896, the average mortality was 2,379,795; in the second period, which, it may be noted, included the famine year 1897, it sunk to 2,149,448; and in the three years ending 1902 it rose to 2,467,529.

3. The average number of reported deaths in the third triennial period exceeded that in the first by 87,734, and a remarkable circumstance is that of the total increase 78,875 related to infants less than one year old. The detailed figures show, however, that there was a sudden increase in infant mortality in 1899, and that it has remained at a higher level since then; and it is probable that the difference is due either to a change in the system of reporting or to a change in the method of classification. Mr. Gait in the Census Report writes of a tendency to ignore the deaths of infants under one year of age because they are buried without any ceremony, and their decease is thus not likely to attract much notice; and it is possible that such cases are now reported more frequently than they formerly were. Apart from any question of increase, however, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that the rate of infant mortality is so high as to deserve close examination. In this connection the attention of the Sanitary Commissioner has been drawn to the appalling rate of infant mortality in Calcutta, and to the fact that in 62 per cent. of the town areas shown in the Provincial Appendix to his Report the total deaths exceeded the births; and he has been requested to enquire how far the latter result is due to the high death-rate among infants. At the same time it may be pointed out that the statistics of towns can go but a very small way to explain the increase in the whole Province, as the number of additional deaths of infants under one year old reported in 1902, as compared with that reported in 1894, is very nearly equal to the total mortality from all causes in all the town areas put together.

4. Deaths from fever formed 69 per cent. of the whole number reported, which was a smaller proportion than in any of the previous eight years, with the exception of the year 1900. A comparison of the three triennial periods shows that from 1894 to 1896 the mortality averaged 1,731,437; from 1897 to 1899 it fell to 1,568,631; and from 1900 to 1902 it rose again to 1,680,915. It is satisfactory to observe that in the Province as a whole the mortality did not rise to its former level. A further analysis of the figures discloses that in Eastern Bengal (i.e., in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions) the mortality rose during the second period, and remained practically at the same level during the third; that in the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahi, and Orissa Divisions it fell, and then rose to a higher level than before; that in Bihar (i.e., in the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions) it fell in the first and rose again in the third period, but the later level was much below the first; and that in Chota Nagpur the mortality in each period was lower than that in the preceding. The actual average annual mortality in the three triennial periods was:—In Eastern Bengal, 289,686, 338,174, and 339,122; in the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahi, and Orissa Divisions taken together, 681,451, 618,515, and 710,660; in Bihar, 658,773, 526,107, and 546,852; and in Chota Nagpur 101,527, 85,838, and 84,280.

5. While, however, the mortality from fever in the whole Province has diminished, the disease has, according to the statistics, increased in severity in certain districts. During the last four years a district death-rate from fever exceeding 35 per mille has been reported on fourteen occasions as compared with eight in the preceding five years, while in the more recent quadrennial period it has thrice exceeded 40 per mille, a rate which was never before reached. It is not improbable that this increase may be explained by the improvement in reporting which has been brought about by the introduction of the dafadari system, and the better supervision thereby attained over the conduct of chaukidars. Still, whether the previous returns were correct or not, it is obvious that nothing should be left undone to ascertain, and if possible to combat, the causes of the enormous mortality now reported. The Sanitary Commissioner considers that any exhaustive investigation by Civil Surgeons is impossible, and the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals recommends that an enquiry should be conducted by a specially qualified officer in one of the fever-stricken districts, which would, he believes, clear up many of the difficulties which now surround the subject. Enquiries of this kind have often been held before and in some cases with useful results, but the knowledge of tropical diseases has developed so rapidly within the last few years that an investigation conducted now would, in the Lieutenant Governor's opinion, be much more likely to prove efficient than could have been expected even five years ago. His Honour has accordingly accepted this recommendation, and has directed that such an enquiry should be undertaken as soon as the services of a suitable officer can be spared.

6. The total number of attacks from plague during the year was 38,928 against 90,762 in 1901, and of deaths 32,967 against 78,629. The ratio of deaths to attacks for the whole Province fell from 86·6 to 84·6, which probably indicates a slight improvement in reporting attacks rather than a decline in the virulence of the epidemic. This ratio is still, however, in excess of what is considered to be the normal ratio of plague mortality, as well as of the average ratio for the whole of India, which between the year of the first outbreak of the disease in Bombay (1896) and the end of March 1902 is roughly estimated to have been 77·3 per cent.

7. The preventive measures adopted in the case of plague remained unchanged. Disinfection was systematically carried out in Calcutta and in several mufassal towns, but it was generally viewed with suspicion in rural areas, where evacuation of infected houses, which was for the most part resorted to spontaneously, was the only measure in favour. Towards the close of the year the system of desiccation by dry heat, which was introduced with success by Dr. Sahwney in Jammu in Kashmir, was tried in several places; but the experience gained in the short period of its working has not been sufficient to justify any definite pronouncement as to its utility. Inoculation, which from the first has been a purely voluntary measure, was resorted to in the few districts in which there was a demand for it, but though, so far as ascertained results show, the immunity which it conferred was unmistakable, the demand was very small and was confined to three districts only.

8. The death-rate from small pox in 1902 (·77 per mille) was much higher than that recorded in any other year during the decade, and this fact is no doubt largely responsible for the increase in the number of vaccine operations which is noticed in the Sanitary Commissioner's notes on vaccination for the year 1902-1903. Singhbhum and Midnapore were the districts worst affected, the epidemic having apparently survived in both cases from the previous year, in which the mortality from small-pox was also unusually high. The consequent increase in the number of operations during these two years is noticeable as indicative both of energetic measures of repression on the part of the authorities, and of a growing belief in the efficacy of vaccination on the part of the populace. The invariably high death-rate in the three districts of the Orissa Division, particularly in Cuttack and Puri, has on several occasions attracted the notice of the Lieutenant-Governor, who has been led to conclude that it is to an appreciable extent due to their contiguity to Native States, in many of which the resort to vaccination, even where it has taken root, is only of comparatively recent growth. Recent enquiries, moreover, have shown that the old prejudice in favour of inoculation survives with more vigour in this Division, and in the adjoining Political States, than elsewhere in Bengal, and His Honour has already taken steps to enlist the assistance of the executive authorities, both in British and in Independent Territory, in the suppression of the practice The rapid advance made in 1902-1903 in the spread of vaccination in the Political States of Chota Nagpur is peculiarly gratifying, and the Lieutenant-Governor sees in it the fruits of a measure recently undertaken with the full co-operation of the Chiefs under which a system of trained supervision was introduced, the cost being contributed in proportion to their areas and population by the various States concerned, with the object of checking and improving the work of the vaccinators. The introduction of a similar system in the Orissa States is under discussion, and the useful object-lesson afforded by Chota Nagpur should help to convince the Orissa Chiefs of its utility.

9. The general results of the year in regard to vaccination are distinctly satisfactory from a departmental point of view, and they bear out the conclusion to which the Lieutenant-Governor has independently arrived in favour of the continuance of the licensed, as opposed to the paid, system of vaccination. There was a decided increase in the proportion of persons successfully vaccinated, the total ratio being 34·22 per mille against 32·68 in 1901-1902, and the average number of operations performed by each licensed vaccinator rose from 944 to 990, while the average cost to Provincial and Local Funds of each successful case remained unchanged. The Lieutenant-Governor would, however, be glad if the Sanitary Commissioner could arrange to adduce some more direct evidence than is at present furnished of the efficacy of vaccination in warding off the disease or mitigating its severity. It might be possible to arrange that whenever a death from small-pox is reported, information should at the same time be obtained from the chaukidar or other reporting agency, whether the death is that of a vaccinated or of an unvaccinated person. If this could be done, a real criterion of the success of vaccination would be available, which might serve to convince the general public of the value of this means of prevention; and moreover the continual enquiry whether the deceased had been vaccinated would direct their attention to the subject and lead them to note the evidence themselves.

10. The Sanitary Board had under consideration during the year a number of schemes for the improvement of the water-supply, the drainage and the conservancy of various localities, but the work actually carried out was not of importance. A system of cleansing villages and rural towns was, however, inaugurated by the Patna Sadar Local Board in the previous year, and was carried on during the year under review. The procedure is for members of the Board to report the names of villages in the vicinity of their places of abode which they find to be in an insanitary state; an annual programme is prepared; estimates are drawn up; and cleansing operations are carried out under the supervision of the members of the Board. The operations consist of the cleansing of the village sites, the conservancy of the village, the removal of filth and rank vegetation, the filling up of ditches, and the like. The experiment is an exceedingly interesting one, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that it may have a future before it.

11. The Sanitary Board also continued the enquiry into the septic system for the disposal of sewage. In circular No. 18T.—M., dated the 25th November 1900, Government advised caution in the adoption of this system pending the outcome of certain bacteriological experiments which were being made. These experiments were completed during the year under review, and though their results showed that the effluent from a septic tank was not free from pathogenic organisms, nor of sufficient purity to be discharged with safety into any possible source of water used for drinking purposes, the conclusions were sufficiently favourable to justify the conviction that the septic method, if introduced with proper precautions, was a considerable improvement on the old systems of disposal of night-soil by trenching, and it is clear that it obviates to a large extent the nuisance caused by the passage of conservancy carts through the streets of a town. After weighing all the evidence, the Lieutenant-Governor considered that the system had passed beyond the experimental stage, and sanction was accordingly given to the Muzaffarpur Municipality to construct a septic tank. As this is the first municipal venture of the kind, its results will be carefully watched, and the experience attained should prove a valuable guide to other municipalities in Bengal.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor has examined with satisfaction the unmistakable evidence contained in Statement I appended to the Sanitary Commissioner's Report that marked improvement has in certain cases followed the introduction of water-supply and drainage schemes. In one or two instances, however, apart from plague, the reported results are less satisfactory than might have been anticipated, and the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if in his next report the Sanitary Commissioner would give his own opinion regarding such cases.

APPOINTMENT DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION.

Dated Darjeeling, the 4th July 1903.

READ—

The Resolution of the 9th June 1902, reviewing the result of the examination held in that year, and appointing candidates to be probationers in the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service and in the Subordinate Civil Service.

The notification of the 9th December 1902, publishing rules for the examination of 1903 for admission to the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service and to the Subordinate Civil Service.

The reports of the Examiners at the examination held on the 15th, 16th, 17th, and 18th April 1903.

THE eight Probationary Deputy Collectors and three Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors appointed on the result of the examination held in 1902 have now all been appointed substantively pro tempore. A Probationary Deputy Collector and a Probationary Sub-Deputy Collector, selected on the results of the Agricultural Examination of the Sibpur Engineering College, still remain to be provided with similar appointments.

2. In December last it was notified that at the examination to be held this year, six candidates would be selected for Deputy Collectorships, to be held for six months on probation on subsistence allowances of Rs. 50 a month, and three for Sub-Deputy Collectorships, to be held for six months on probation on subsistence allowances of Rs. 30 a month. It was announced that three Probationary Deputy Collectorships would be given to the first three candidates on the list in order of merit; that for the remaining three Probationary Deputy Collectorships three candidates would be selected by the Lieutenant-Governor from those who had obtained not less than one-third of the total marks, and that a similar selection would be made for the Sub-Deputy Collectorships.

3. The examination was held on the 15th April and the three days following. One hundred and six applicants obtained permission to compete, and 105 actually appeared and answered the examination papers; 14 of these were Muhammadans; 8 were Biharis (including 5 Muhammadans), and 3 were Uriyas. The total number of candidates who obtained one-third marks and above was 84.

4. The three candidates below named, who gained the three highest places in order of merit, are, in accordance with the terms of the notification of 9th December 1902, entitled to, and will receive, appointments as Probationary Deputy Collectors:—

	Number of marks.
Babu Satis Chandra Ghose, B.A.	563
„ Jamini Mohan Mitra, M.A.	553
„ Arun Kumar Bose, B.A.	549

The Lieutenant-Governor selects from among the other candidates Mr. Naw Ratton Misra, B.A., Maulvi Abul Mozuffar Ahmed, B.A., and Babu Baidya Nath Misra, B.A., for the fourth, fifth, and sixth appointments.

These six probationary officers will each receive a subsistence allowance of Rs. 50 per mensem; and if the reports from the districts in which they are stationed are favourable, they will, after a period of probation for six months, be appointed to the eighth grade of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors as vacancies occur. They will not be vested with magisterial powers until they are so appointed. Separate orders will be passed posting these officers to districts.

5. The following are the three candidates selected by the Lieutenant-Governor to be Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors:—

Babu Ajodhya Prasada, M.A.
Maulvi Ahmed Ali, B A.
Maulvi Syed Mohammed Yakub, B A.

Those probationary officers will receive subsistence allowances of Rs. 30 per mensem at present, and, if they are satisfactorily reported on, will be appointed to the fourth grade of Sub-Deputy Collectors as vacancies occur. Separate orders will be passed posting them to districts.

6. The above appointments are all subject to the condition that the candidate in each case must obtain the medical certificate of fitness required by rule 5 of the rules contained in the notification of the 9th December 1902, quoted in the preamble.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP IN BENGAL FOR THE SEASON 1903.

THE following is published for general information.

A. EARLE,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 2nd July 1903.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First forecast of the Jute Crop in Bengal for the Season 1903.

Explanatory.—Returns are received from 26 districts in Bengal, the area under jute in the remaining 21 districts being insignificant. About two-thirds of the crop is grown in Eastern Bengal, principally in Mymensingh, Tippera, Dacca, Pabna, Rajshahi and Bogra, while one-fourth comes from the Rangpur, Dinajpur and Jalpaiguri districts of Northern Bengal. The present forecast contains figures for the area sown and the probable outturn of the crop, as estimated up to the middle of June.

2. Character of the season.—The weekly weather and crop reports from the important jute-growing districts show marked deficiency of rain in April and, to some extent, in May. The following figures are given :—

		March.	April.	May.	From 16th May to 17th June.	REMARKS.
1		2	3	4	5	6
Mymensingh	Normal ...	1·87	4 31	11·30	18·01

	Actual ...	1·19	·10	5·24	13·92
Rangpur ...	Normal ...	1·03	3·19	10·21	16 52
	Actual ...	1·44	·03	7·54	13 69

	Actual ...	·26	·02	3·15	12·17
Jalpaiguri ...	Normal ...	1·68	5·88	14 22	19·39
	Actual ...	1·13	1·33	8·23	15·26

The Collectors report deficiency of rain at the time of sowing from all the jute-growing districts except Murshidabad and Balasore, whose areas under jute are comparatively unimportant. On this account Purnea, Nadia, Dinajpur and Tippera report that the season will be late and in the Province generally the area under the crop will be smaller than usual.

3. Area cultivated.—It is now estimated by District Officers that the normal area under jute is 2,326,000 acres, but probably this is still an under-estimate. Not less than 2,350,000 acres may be taken as the normal area and 70½ lakhs of bales as the normal outturn. Last year District Officers reported 2,106,300 acres under the crop with an outturn of 76 per cent. These figures were raised by the Director to 2,200,000 acres with an outturn of 80 per cent., producing nearly 53 lakhs of bales. The figures recently received for export and consumption lead me to believe that the outturn of the crop of 1902 was not less than 58 lakhs of bales.

In the present season Collectors report the area under jute as 2,019,100 acres. The following districts are reported mainly responsible for the deficiency. Mymensingh a deficiency of 62,000 acres, Rangpur 43,000 acres, Dinajpur 40,000 acres, Tippera 26,000 acres, Bogra 24,000 acres, Rajshahi 23,000 acres, Nadia 19,000 acres, Khulna 12,500 acres, Jessore 12,000 acres, Malda 10,000 acres, 24-Parganas and Purnea 6,000 acres each, and Pabna, Jalpaiguri and Faridpur 5,000 acres each. It is undoubtedly the fact that a smaller area has been sown this year than last year owing to want of rain at the time of sowing, but, having regard to the marked tendency to under-estimate, it is safe to assume that the area under jute this year is not less than 2,100,000 acres.

4. Character of the crop.—Notwithstanding the smaller area, the estimates for outturn given by District Officers are on the whole more favourable than last year. The important districts of Mymensingh and Tippera each estimate 90 per cent., Rangpur 82 per cent., Pabna 75 per cent. Dacca and Jalpaiguri estimate 70 per cent. each, while Rajshahi reports 60 per cent. and Dinajpur 50 per cent. only.

The detailed estimates of the District Officers for the Province work out to only a fraction under 80 per cent., but the returns for some districts appear to be unduly low. Making allowance for the tendency to under-estimate, I anticipate that an 85 per cent. crop in the area sown will be reaped, provided that conditions for the remainder of the season are normal. A telegram from Tippera of 20th reports an improvement after the recent heavy rain, and a telegram from Mymensingh of 22nd reports only slight damage. As the area sown is less by 10 per cent. than the normal area, an outturn of 85 per cent. in that area represents 76½ per cent. of a normal outturn, or nearly 54 lakhs of bales.

5. Stocks of the previous seasons' crop in hand.—All District Officers report stocks to be very low.

The above estimates of area and outturn are based upon the reports from District Officers, which are published for general information with this forecast.

REPORT UNDER SECTION 41 OF BENGAL ACT I OF 1893 ON THE WAREHOUSES IN HOWRAH FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31ST MARCH 1903.

No. 1550T.—M.

The 4th July 1903.—The following report is published for general information.

L. P. SHIRRES,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Dated Howrah, the 14th May 1903

From—H. LEMESURIER, Esq., Chairman of the Howrah Municipality,
To—The Magistrate of Howrah.

I HAVE the honour to report that 270 warehouses were licensed in 1902-1903 out of 305 registered during that year against 254 out of 297 registered in 1901-1902; the details being as follows:—

YEARS.	Jute.	Cotton.	Straw.	Wood.	Hay.	TOTAL.
Registered 1901-1902 ..	32	30	57	176	2	297
Registered 1902-1903 ...	34	34	55	180	2	305
Licensed 1901-1902 ...	28	27	42	155	2	254
Licensed 1902-1903	29	33	44	163	1	270

2. The income from license fees during the year under report amounted to Rs. 7,941, of which Rs. 183 were arrears for 1901-1902 and Rs. 1,297 on account of license fees for the next year collected in advance, against Rs. 5,869 (of which Rs. 79 were on account of arrears for 1900-1901) in 1901-1902. There is thus a decided improvement in collection of license fees in the year under report.

3. The demand, collection, remission and balance for 1902-1903 are shown in Appendix A, and the details of licenses granted in this year to Jute and Cotton Warehouses are entered in Appendix B. Owing to the comparative unimportance of the 208 licenses granted for the storage of straw, wood, and hay in 1902-1903, against 199 in the previous year, they have not been entered in Appendix B, and it may be noted that such license fees have only been levied under the Fire-brigade Act since July 1893, prior to which they were levied under section 261 of the Bengal Municipal Act.

4. There were 40 prosecutions in the year under review, which realized in fines Rs 161 against 23 in the previous year which produced Rs. 136.

5. The expenditure incurred in assessing and collecting license fees amounted to Rs. 878 as detailed below:—

	Rs.
Salary of General Supervisor and Assessor ...	600
Salary of Inspector	180
Salary of Clerk	42
Salary of Peon	48
Contingencies	8
Total ...	878

6. The bill on account of the commission payable to the Inspector amounting to Rs. 72 was not received till after the 31st March 1903. The Fire-brigade establishment continued under the control of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta. The Fire-brigade Station in Howrah stands in a very central position, north of the Municipal Market, and from a wooden stage raised over it the whole town is overlooked. There were seven fires during the year, the details of which are given in Appendix C. There were also seven other petty fires, at three of which the Fire-brigade attended while four were extinguished by residents of the localities.

7. The Commissioner of Police demanded Rs. 4,581 for the maintenance of the Fire-brigade in 1902-1903, and this amount was remitted to him during the year.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 a.m. of that day.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; Z, lightning; K, thunderstorm.

No. 1390T.F.—The 6th July 1903.—The following revised rules* framed under sections 9, 105, and 130 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, for regulating the weighment and removal by rail or water under bond of non-duty-paid salt from shipboard or from the Government Salt Golahs to a warehouse appointed or licensed under the Sea Customs Act, or under Act VIII of 1896 (the Inland Bonded Warehouses Act), and for the clearance of the salt from the warehouse, having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information as required by section 204 :—

APPLICATION FOR GRANT AND WITHDRAWAL OF A LICENSE FOR AN INLAND BONDED WAREHOUSE.

1. An application for a license to open an inland bonded warehouse shall be in writing in the form (I) annexed, and shall be signed by the applicant. It should be presented to the Collector of the district within which the warehouse is to be situated.

2. Upon receipt of such an application, the Collector will cause enquiry to be made on the following points :—

(a) The suitability of the locality proposed for the warehouse.

NOTE.—A warehouse should be easy of access for purposes of inspection and for the carriage to it of salt without undue wastage during transit.

(b) The suitability of the ground site proposed.

NOTE.—A warehouse should be constructed upon a high and dry plot of land, in proximity to ready means of communication, e.g., a railway, river, or khal. It should be at least 200 yards from any other gulah in use for the storage of duty-paid or non-duty-paid salt.

(c) The suitability of the building erected for the storage of salt or the willingness of the applicant to construct such a building as a condition precedent to the grant of a license.

NOTE.—The following instructions indicate the conditions which will ordinarily satisfy the requirements of the Government in regard to the kind of warehouse to be licensed. They are not, however, to be understood as binding the bonders to any particular plan of building, or to the use of any particular material in its construction :—

(i) The warehouse need not necessarily be a masonry building, but may be one with double mat walls, a mud floor, and a tiled, thatched, or corrugated-iron roof. The ground, if damp, should have a single layer of bricks to keep the salt from contact with the earth.

(ii) The warehouse should be sufficiently raised above flood-level to be dry, and the plinth should be protected by pucka masonry walls. The compartments, if any are necessary, may be made of single or double mats with posts.

(iii) The height of the walls and size of the warehouse may be determined by the bonders. In practice a height of 12 feet will be found to be the most convenient.

(iv) No windows are necessary, if sufficient light is admitted through the door and under the eaves. When windows are provided, it is advisable to have them as near the roof as possible, so as to facilitate the storage of salt. They should be provided with iron bars, and should be capable of being closed from the inside. One good-sized door for the ingress and egress of coolies carrying loads is preferable to two, as it can be the more easily watched.

(v) Both doors and windows should be capable of being securely fastened. If there is more than one door, only one should be open at a time, and a second door should be open only if the darogah can conveniently see both doors at once. More than two doors should never be allowed to remain open at one time.

(vi) The warehouse should not be connected by any door or passage with any other godown, shop, or dwelling-house.

(d) The character, solvency, and general suitability of the applicant.

3. Upon completion of his enquiries the Collector will submit his report, together with the application in original, through the Commissioner of the Division, to the Board of Revenue.

4. Licenses, if granted, will be issued in the form (II) annexed.

5 Under section 16, Act VIII of 1878, a license may be cancelled on conviction of any offence under that Act relating to warehouses, or on the expiration of one month's notice in writing given to the licensee by the Board of Revenue on any grounds. No compensation shall be payable to the licensee in respect of such withdrawal.

6. (a) Applications for the renewal of licenses should be made to the Collector at least six weeks before the expiry of the term of the license.

(b) Upon receipt of such an application the Collector shall cause enquiry to be made into the condition of the warehouse and into the character and solvency of the bonder, and shall submit his report to the Board of Revenue through the Commissioner of the Division.

7. On receipt of an application under section 91, Act VIII of 1878, for the admission of salt into a warehouse appointed or licensed under the Sea Customs Act, or under the Inland Bonded Warehouses Act, VIII of 1896, and after the due execution of a bond under the provisions of section 92 of the Sea Customs Act, the Collector of Customs shall make such arrangements as he may deem necessary for the proper weighment of salt during its discharge from the vessel or from the golahs for the purpose of being conveyed to the warehouse. When the salt is to be rewarehoused, it shall ordinarily be permitted to be rewarehoused under the original bond in cases where no injury is likely to occur to the revenue, but the Collector may require a fresh bond in addition to the bond under section 92.

8. The weighment of salt on shipboard shall be carried on in the presence of the Preventive Officer, subject to such charges as may be in force and under such subsidiary arrangements as may from time to time be made by the Collector of Customs in respect of salt intended to be bonded in the Government golahs. When the salt has to be conveyed to a vessel which is not alongside the discharging vessel, a fee of one rupee per 100 maunds up to 500 maunds and two rupees for each 500 maunds, or part of 500 maunds, thereafter, will be payable.

CONVEYANCE OF SALT BY RAIL DIRECT FROM SHIPBOARD OR FROM THE GOLAHS.

9. Delivery may be made in bulk from the golahs or from shipboard. The salt may be discharged direct from the ship or the golahs into the wagons, and the amount of the salt so discharged may be ascertained by passing each wagon over the railway weigh-bridge in the presence of a Preventive Officer, or it may be weighed at the discretion of the Collector of Customs. When the salt is being delivered to any one other than the owner, delivery by weigh-bridge weight shall only be allowed when both parties give their consent in writing to this method of weighment.

10. A pass in the annexed Form No. III will be granted by the Preventive Officer to the railway official appointed to take charge of the loaded wagons or at the Kidderpore Docks to the Dock Superintendent as a protective document to be given to the railway guard when the train is finally made up. The name of the importing vessel and of the bonder, the quantity of salt loaded into each wagon, and the warehouse wherein it is to be deposited shall be endorsed on the pass. Salt covered by one bond may be despatched in part consignments, and the Preventive Officer shall grant a pass for each part consignment despatched. On the completion of the quantity covered by the bond, a note shall be made on the pass by the Preventive Officer that final delivery has been given.

11. After the salt has been loaded in the wagons, the wagons shall be closed and sealed by, or in the presence of, the Preventive Officer.

12. Immediately after the arrival of the wagons at their destination, notice shall be given by the bonder or his agent to the officer authorised by the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, to supervise the transit of the salt to the warehouse. This officer shall thereupon note the date and hour of arrival, bringing any unreasonable delay to the notice of the Collector, examine the seals, and if they are found intact, take over from the railway guard the pass accompanying the salt endorsed by the Preventive Officer, and superintend the removal of the salt to the appointed warehouse, where it shall be stored in bulk without reweighment, unless the bonder or his agent shall desire reweighment. The expense of such reweighment shall be borne by the bonder.

CONVEYANCE OF SALT FROM SHIPBOARD IN THE STREAM, OR FROM THE KIDDERPORE DOCKS, OR FROM THE GOLAHS, PARTLY BY BOAT AND PARTLY BY RAIL, OR PARTLY BY BOAT AND PARTLY BY STEAMER.

13. (a) No salt intended to be conveyed partly by boat and partly by rail, or partly by boat and partly by steamer, shall be taken from shipboard or from the golahs, save in bags and in a lighter provided with hatches, which are capable of being securely fastened down, and it shall be the duty of the Preventive Officer to satisfy himself that such lighter is in a serviceable condition before permitting such salt to be placed therein.

(b) When salt has to be conveyed to a vessel lying within the limits of the Port of Calcutta, which is not alongside the discharging vessel or the Government golahs, it shall be conveyed in decked boats, the hatches of which shall be sealed, and in the case of bulk salt, the salt shall be stamped all over with the Government 'adul.' Each boat shall carry a Government peon accompanied by a representative of the bonders, and a boat-note in the form prescribed shall be handed to each manjhi. A Preventive Officer shall be stationed on board the exporting vessel, and his duty will be to see that the seals and stamps are intact, and that the salt in the boat has not been tampered with. He will securely seal the hatches of the vessels when loading is completed, and will endorse on the boat-note the quantity taken from the boats and placed on board. The boat-note or special pass will be made over to the master of the vessel, and a counterfoil of the note will be forwarded to the Collector of the district to which the salt is consigned. A fee of Re. 1 per 100 maunds up to 500 maunds, and Rs. 2 for each 500 maunds, or part of 500 maunds, thereafter, will be payable.

14. As soon as the bonder or his agent or servant shall notify to the Preventive Officer that he desires to proceed with any boat-load of salt, he shall obtain a boat-note in which the name of the importing vessel and of the bonder, the quantity of salt contained therein, and the warehouse wherein it is to be deposited shall be specified. The mouths of the bags shall be securely fastened, and the tying sealed with a stamp specially provided for this purpose, and the hatches shall be closed and sealed by, or in the presence of, the Preventive Officer. The lighter shall then be allowed to proceed in charge of a peon or other Custom House officer deputed for the purpose by the Custom House authorities, accompanied by an agent on the part of the bonder.

15. The boat shall be made fast to the bank nearest to the place where the railway wagons by which the salt is to be conveyed to the warehouse may be in waiting, otherwise at the moorings nearest to such ghat. It shall on no account (except stress of weather) be permitted by the peon or other Custom House officer on board to anchor anywhere else.

16. Notice of the arrival of such salt shall at once be given by the Custom House officer to the Preventive Officer deputed by the Customs authorities to superintend the storage of the salt in the railway wagons, who shall thereupon note the date and hour of arrival, bringing any unreasonable delay to the notice of the Collector of Customs, examine and compare the boat-note delivered by the Preventive Officer to the bonder, his servant or agent, and the cargo of salt, and superintend its removal to, and storage in, the wagons.

17. The bonder's agent and peon or other Custom House officer shall remain on board of the boat in charge until the seals and hatches are examined and all the cargo landed and put in wagons. After the salt has been put in the railway wagons, the wagons shall be closed and sealed by, or in the presence of, the Preventive Officer, who shall endorse on the boat-note the quantity landed from the boat and placed in the wagons. The boat-note shall be made over to the railway official appointed to take charge of the loaded wagons, and shall be made over by the railway authorities to the railway guard to be taken with the salt as a protective document.

18. Immediately after the arrival of the wagons at their destination, notice shall be given by the bonder or his agent to the officer authorised by the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, to supervise the transit of the salt to the warehouse. This officer shall thereupon note the date and hour of arrival, bringing any unreasonable delay to the notice of the Collector, examine the seals, and, if they are found intact, take over from the railway guard the pass accompanying the salt, endorsed by the Preventive Officer, and superintend the removal of the salt to the appointed warehouse, where it shall be stored in bulk without reweighment, unless the bonder or his agent shall desire reweighment. The expense of such reweighment shall be borne by the bonder.

CONVEYANCE OF SALT IN BULK DIRECT BY WATER FROM SHIPBOARD IN THE STREAM, OR FROM THE KIDDERPORE DOCKS, OR FROM THE GOLAHS.

19. All applications under Rule 7 shall specify the name, tonnage, and manjhi or master's name of the vessel in which the goods are intended to be conveyed.

20. Salt shall be conveyed by vessels only so constructed that the hatches and all access to the hold in which the salt is loaded can be closed by seals to the satisfaction of the Preventive Officer superintending the discharge of salt, and no other cargo than salt shall be carried in such hold. Salt covered by one bond only shall be carried in each vessel, and duty-paid and non-duty-paid salt shall not be carried in the same vessel. Each salt vessel shall carry a special pass in the annexed form, under the signature of the Collector of Customs or the Preventive Officer giving delivery, covering the consignment of salt shipped by it. This pass shall remain in custody of the master or manjhi, and shall be made over by him to the officer authorised by the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, to supervise the transit of the salt from the vessel to the warehouse. A copy of the pass shall be sent to the Collector of the district or to the Collector of Customs, if there be any.

21. The salt when placed on board each vessel must be stamped all over, the hatches and all access to the hold containing the salt being closed by seals during transit. Both the seals on the hatches and the stamps on the salt should be stated in the pass referred to in Rule 20.

22. When the discharge of salt from shipboard or from the warehouse is interrupted or not completed, such quantity as has been actually delivered at the time of interruption shall be covered by a customs boat-note. The salt so delivered must also be completely stamped over, and the hatches and all access to the hold must be sealed by customs seals to be examined by the night Customs Inspector, who must record his report of each such inspection.

23. The vessel on arrival at its destination shall be anchored as close as possible to the ghat leading to the warehouse in which the salt is to be stored, or at the nearest moorings to such ghat.

24. Immediately after the arrival of the vessel at its destination, notice shall be given by the bonder or his agent to the officer authorised by the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, to supervise the transit of the salt to the warehouse. This officer shall thereupon note the date and hour of arrival, bringing any unreasonable delay to the notice of the Collector, examine the seals, and, if they are found intact, take over the pass delivered by the Preventive Officer to the master or manjhi of the vessel, and superintend the removal of the salt to the appointed warehouse, where it shall be stored in bulk without reweighment, unless the bonder or his agent shall desire reweighment. The expense of such reweighment shall be borne by the bonder.

GENERAL RULES.

25. Night work will be allowed at Chandbali (and Orissa generally) only on condition that special permits are first obtained from the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, who may at his discretion refuse to grant such permission.

26. The bonder will be held responsible for any departure from these rules on the part of his agent.

27. All expenses connected with the removal and storage of the salt and the services of the officer or peon in charge of the salt under Rules 8, 13 (b), or 14 shall be borne by the bonder.

28. If the officer referred to in Rule 12, 18, and 24 shall have reason to believe that the salt has in any way been tampered with during its transit, he shall at once report the circumstance to the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, who shall direct the salt to be reweighed, and such reweighment shall be made in the first place at the expense of Government. If there be found any unexplained deficiency in the salt in the railway wagons or vessel as compared with the quantity specified in the pass or boat-note, the Collector may call on the bonder to refund the expense of weighment, and shall exact the full duty under Rule 36.

29. It shall be open to an inspecting officer to direct the reweighment in his presence of any consignment whether on arrival or in store, and such check-weighments should from time to time be made as opportunity offers. The expense of such a weighment will be borne by Government, and the result should be noted in the memorandum of inspection.

30. The salt shall be stored under proper supervision in the warehouse. The door of the warehouse shall have two locks; the key of one lock (which must be a Chubb's lock) shall remain with the darogah or other officer deputed by the Collector, and the key of the other with the bonder's agent.

31. Salt relating to different bonds shall be stored separately and distinctly. Any admixture of salt specified in different bonds shall render those bonds liable to cancelment and the holders to immediate payment of the full duty payable thereon The darogah or other officer deputed by the Collector shall keep a separate account in Form No. IV for the salt warehoused under each bond.

32. No duty-paid salt shall be stored in the same warehouse as non duty-paid salt. An infringement of this rule will render the license liable to cancellation.

33. The owner of the salt shall be required to pay full duty on any difference between the quantity of salt originally delivered from shipboard or the golahs and the quantity cleared out from the warehouse, less an allowance of 3 per cent. on the whole if such wastage actually occurs.

34. In any special case the Chief Customs Authority shall be competent to direct that an increased allowance for wastage shall be granted in accordance with the provision of section 122, Act VIII of 1878.

35. When the seals are found intact, the owner or his agent may, within twenty-four hours from the time of arrival of the salt at its destination, pay the duty on the whole quantity of salt, less 1 per cent. for wastage in any consignment as shown in the pass or boat-note, after which the Collector of the district or Collector of Customs, if there be any, shall allow him to break bulk without weighing or warehousing being required If the duty be paid under Rule 38 to the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, the darogah of the warehouse shall telegraph to the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, at the expense of the bonder, the condition in which the salt arrives and on receipt of an intimation of the payment from that officer, shall allow the bonder or his agent to break bulk, the other conditions being duly fulfilled.

A Sunday or gazetted holiday intervening between the arrival of the salt and the tender of duty should be excluded in reckoning the twenty-four hours mentioned above.

36. If the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, as the case may be, has any reason to believe that any fraud has been perpetrated by the bonder or owner of the salt or any person in his employ, he shall refuse to make any allowance on account of wastage, and shall demand the full duty payable on the entire quantity received into bond.

37. Before permission can be granted to transport salt to the warehouse, the bonder will be required to enter into an engagement with the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, to defray the cost to Government of the establishment and charges noted in the margin, or such other establishment and charges as may be agreed to by the bonders with the sanction of the Board, which will be appointed by the Collector for the guard and supervision of the warehouse. The leave and pensionary charges of this establishment will be borne by Government. In the event of the bonder deciding to close the warehouse, he shall give to the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, as the case may be, a preliminary notice of not less than three months of such intention in order that the establishment entertained may be similarly notified of the impending termination of their employment. If such a notice is not given, the bonder shall be liable to pay to Government a sum in lieu thereof, equal to the pay of the establishment for the full period of three months, or for such time as the notice given falls short of three months, and this liability shall be accepted in the engagement to be entered into by him. If no notice be given to the establishment preliminary to their discharge, the sum so due shall be paid to them in lieu thereof when they are discharged. The bonders shall also bear all charges estimated by the Collector to be necessary for the proper preliminary equipment of the warehouse. All darogahs appointed to the charge of inland bonded warehouses shall be liable to transfer from one warehouse to another at the discretion, and under the orders, of the Board of Revenue.

RULES FOR THE CLEARANCE OF SALT.

38. Before any quantity of salt is cleared from the warehouse, duty shall be paid either at the district treasury or at the Calcutta Custom House, and the necessary protective document, if any be required, issued. At places where there is no Government treasury, and which are outside the salt limits, the Chief Customs Authority may, however, at its discretion, allow the duty to be paid through the post-office or to the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, who will send the receipt therefor direct to the darogah in charge of the warehouse.

39. All deliveries of salt bonded in the warehouse under the provisions of Act VIII of 1878 shall be supervised, as required by section 99 of the above Act, by the darogah, who shall give a security of Rs. 500. In the case of warehouses situated within the salt limits, he shall allow delivery to be taken on the production of the necessary protective document. In other cases he may deliver on the production of the treasury chalan or the post-office receipt for the money-order.

40. Before any quantity of salt is cleared from a warehouse, the bonder shall be required to provide at his own expense scales and weights suitable for the weighment of salt, which, when first supplied, shall be tested and certified as correct by the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, before they are brought into use. They shall be subsequently tested at the time of the inspection of the warehouse as often as may be convenient. The bonder shall also be required to maintain the same in proper order and to repair them at his own expense as may be necessary from time to time. Bonders are required also to make their own arrangements for cutting and removing the salt as well as to supply their own tools, such as sabools, kodalies, &c., for the purpose.

41. The duty of the darogah will be to keep in a book in Form No. V, provided for the purpose at the expense of Government, a correct tally of the weight of the salt taken off the scale by the bonder's people. He will be held personally liable for any excess or deficiency that may be discovered. Both the darogah and the bonder's agent will be required to certify at the end of each day's weighments the correctness of the tally book for that day's work.

42. The darogah shall get a fee of Rs. 2 for work on Sunday or a gazetted holiday, but shall be allowed no overtime fees, nor have any fixed hours of work during the day. The Chief Customs Authority may, however, at its discretion, fix the working hours of the darogah, and grant him overtime fees if at any time it is found necessary to do so. All these fees shall be recovered from the bonders.

43. Should any dispute arise between the darogah and the bonder or purchaser of the salt under delivery, the former will stop the weighment and at once refer the matter in dispute to the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any.

44. The darogah will be particularly careful to bring every irregularity that he may become cognizant of to the notice of the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, without delay, and will be held responsible for failure in doing so.

45. When discrepancies in the accounts cannot be reconciled, and whenever there is reason to believe that the quantity of salt conveyed to the boat or cart is not correctly represented in the accounts, the Collector of the district or the Collector of Customs, if there be any, shall order a reweighment. The expense of such reweighment shall be borne by Government.

46. Whenever the bonder or purchaser is desirous of removing his boats or carts from the premises, the darogah shall satisfy himself on every point before removal, and shall also see, even where the accounts agree, that the boat-load or cart-load represents the exact quantity entered in the rowanna or covered by the chalan or money-order receipt.

47. The Chief Customs Authority may, in any exceptional case, specially empower any officer other than the Collector of the district or the local Collector of Customs to perform the duties prescribed in the foregoing rules in respect of any warehouse.

48. These rules shall come into force from the date of the publication of this notification

In paragraph VI—

(a) from rule 1 the words "or to the Political Officer of the State" shall be omitted;

(b) in rule 2, first proviso, for the words "to a frontier district" the words "to the North-West Frontier Province, and to the districts of Rawalpindi and Dera Ghazi Khan in the Punjab, and in the Isakhel Tahsil of the Mianwali district in the Punjab," shall be substituted;

PUBLIC DEBT.

Simla, the 7th July 1903.

THREE-AND-A-HALF PER CENT. LOAN.

No. 3868-A.—His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor General in Council has resolved to borrow two hundred lakhs of rupees for the public service in the following manner:

2. Promissory Notes will be issued for the said amount in the Form annexed to this Notification, being the form of the notes of the Three-and-a-half Per Cent. Loan of 1900-01, of which loan the notes to be now issued will form a part. All the conditions which apply to notes of the Three-and-a-half Per Cent. Loan of 1900-01, will apply to the notes to be now issued. The interest on the notes of that loan is payable half-yearly on the 30th day of June and the 31st day of December; and the notes are not liable to discharge before the 31st day of December 1920.

Tenders.

3. Tenders for the whole or any part of the said amount of Rs. 2,00,00,000 will be received by the Comptroller General from this date to noon of Wednesday, the 22nd July next. Tenders must be for sums of 100 Rupees or multiples of that sum.

4. Each tender must be addressed, in the form annexed to this Notification, to the Comptroller General, Calcutta, and enclosed in a closed cover, superscribed "Tender for the Three-and-a-half Per Cent. Loan." If the tenderer is not resident in India, he must name an agent resident in India to whom an allotment-certificate may be issued, if any part of the loan is allotted to such tenderer.

NOTE (1).—Tenders made in accordance with these instructions will also be received by the Accountants General at Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, and Lahore, on account of the Comptroller General, Calcutta, on the 21st July, and up to the local time corresponding to 12 o'clock in Calcutta on the 22nd July; provided that—

(a) they are delivered personally or by clerk or messenger at the Accountant General's Office (where a receipt will be given for them);

(b) they are made on printed forms, to be obtained at the same office or at the local Presidency Bank;

(c) each tender is for not less than Rs. 10,000;

(d) the deposit is either a promissory note or a Treasury Receipt from the local Office of the Presidency Bank, or a cheque on a local Bank in favour of the Accountant General;

(e) the amount of the tender is made payable either at the place of tender or in Calcutta; and the Accountant General will return deposits on non-accepted tenders and will issue allotment-certificates so far as the tenders are payable in Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, or Lahore.

NOTE (2).—Tenders made in accordance with these instructions will also be received at all Head and Sub-Post Offices up to a date to be notified at each Post Office. The date will vary according to the distance of the Post Office from Calcutta and will in no case be later than the forenoon of the 20th July. The following conditions must be complied with:

(a) the tenders must be delivered personally or by messenger at the Post Office, where a receipt will be given for them;

(b) they must be made on printed forms, to be obtained at the Post Office;

(c) each tender must be for not less than Rs. 100 and not more than Rs. 2,000;

(d) the deposit must be a receipt for the amount (which may not exceed Rs. 40 for each tender) from the Post Master of the Post Office at which the tender is made,

(e) the amount of the tender must be made payable either at the Head Post Office of tender (whether the tender was made at the Head Post Office or at one of its Sub-Offices) or in Calcutta. In the case, however, of a tender made at a Post Office in Calcutta, the amount of the tender must be made payable only at the Bank of Bengal.

The tenders will be transmitted by post by the Post Master to the Comptroller General so as to reach him before 11 A.M. on Wednesday, the 22nd July. The Comptroller General will deal with them as if they had been made direct to him, returning deposits on non-accepted tenders through the Post Master.

5. The rate at which each tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas: a tender in which no rate is thus specified, but a subscription is offered in some other terms—as, for example, at the recorded minimum, or at some specified percentage in addition to the recorded minimum, or at the average of the accepted tenders—will be rejected as null and void.

6. The rate at which a tender is made must not contain a fraction of an anna: if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

Deposits.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by a deposit of not less than one-hundredth or, if the tender be for less than Five Lakhs of Rupees, then for not less than one-fiftieth part of the tender. The deposit must be in one of the following forms: (a) a receipt for the amount from the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal, or Madras, or Bombay, or one of their Branches, or from an officer in charge of some Public Treasury, or (b) a cheque drawn in favour of the Comptroller General on a Bank in Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, or Lahore, or (c) Government Promissory Notes[1] standing in the name of, or endorsed to, the tenderer or the person making the deposit. In the case of tenders made at Post Offices under note (2) to clause 4, the deposit must be a receipt for the amount from the Post Master of the Post Office at which the tender is made.

[1] It is particularly requested that such Promissory Notes may NOT be endorsed to the Comptroller General.

8. (a) Deposits, not being promissory notes, will, in the case of accepted tenders, be credited proportionately in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender, and will bear interest for the purpose of clause 16 below from the date of the opening of tenders. When a tender is not accepted in full, the deposits, when they are not in the form of promissory notes, will be credited as far as possible proportionately in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of it. If any allotment-certificate is not fully taken up, the deposit credited in respect of it will be forfeited.

(b) Promissory notes deposited in respect of any accepted tender will be held until all the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender are paid up and will, if the allotment-certificates are not fully taken up, be appropriated by the Government and cancelled.

Opening of Tenders.

9. The Governor General in Council reserves the right to declare, on or before the 15th July, the minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted. If not so declared, the said minimum rate will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller General, and, before the tenders are opened, placed upon the table in a sealed envelope, but will not be declared unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

10. Tenders will be opened publicly by the Comptroller General at the Treasury Buildings, Calcutta, at noon (Calcutta time), on Wednesday, the 22nd July next, and those received under the terms of note (1) to clause 4 will be similarly opened by the Accountants General at Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, and Lahore at the local time corresponding to noon Calcutta time, on the same day; but the contents of the tenders will not be disclosed otherwise than as provided in clause 12.

11. Tenders at rates not below the minimum rate will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rate. The amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders; provided that no allotment will be issued if the amount distributable on any tender is less than Rs. 100: preference will however be given to small tenders, not exceeding Rs. 2,000, at the lowest accepted rate, such tenders receiving allotments in full as far as possible.

Allotment-Certificates.

12. To each tenderer (or to his agent) whose tender is accepted in whole or in part, such number of allotment-certificates as may be necessary to make up the aggregate amount allotted to him will be issued by the Comptroller General[1] as soon as possible after the 22nd July and an alphabetical list of the names of those to whom such allotment-certificates are issued will be posted for general information at the Head Offices of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, and at the Branch Offices of the Bank of Bengal at Allahabad and Lahore.

[1] For tenders received by the Accountant General at Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, or Lahore, and payable at those places, the Accountant General will issue the allotment-certificates

13. If the allotment made on any tender is less than Rs. 3,000, then the whole of the allotment-certificates [after credit of the deposit under clause 8 (a)] will be made payable upon the 3rd September.

Otherwise the whole amount of each allotment will be divided into three instalments as follows:

Instalment I.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent., but not exceeding 35 per cent., payable upon the 4th August:

Instalment II.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent., but not exceeding 35 per cent., payable upon the 3rd September:

Instalment III.—The balance payable upon the 23rd September:

and allotment-certificates will be issued for each instalment separately.

But the whole or any part of any accepted tender may be paid at any time after receipt of the allotment-certificates.

The words "as near as convenient" refer to the necessity for making each instalment an exact multiple of Rs. 100.

14. Any allotment-certificates will, on application to the Comptroller General, be exchanged for an equivalent amount of allotment-certificates of smaller denominations; provided that if any payment (beyond the deposit) is recorded upon the cancelled certificate, it can be taken against, and recorded upon, only one of the certificates issued in exchange.

15. Payment of any allotment-certificate may be made to the account of the Government in the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal, or Madras, or Bombay, or in any Branch of these Banks, or into any Public Treasury or Treasuries in India which may be named in the tender in respect of which it was issued. Receipts for such payments will be given by the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or their Branches, or by the officers in charge of the Government Treasuries at which payment is made, by enfacement upon the relative certificate. In the case of accepted tenders which were made at Post Offices other than Post Offices in Calcutta under note (2) to clause 4, payment of allotment-certificates may also be made at the Head Post Office of tender, and the Head Post Master will give a receipt for such payment by enfacement upon the relative allotment-certificate.

Issue of Promissory Notes.

16. (a) When any allotment-certificate is fully paid up, the holder will, on presenting it duly receipted at the place where it was paid, obtain from the Public Debt Office, Calcutta, promissory notes of such values as he may desire (each note being in even hundreds and not less than Rs. 100) bearing interest from 31st December 1903, and he will also receive interest at 3½ per cent. per annum from the dates on which he may have made payment till the 30th December 1903.

(b) Or he may, at his option, by paying interest at the said rate from 30th June 1903 to the dates on which he may have made payment, obtain promissory notes as above, bearing interest from 30th June 1903.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department.

By the Notification in the Finance and Commerce Department, No. 3184A., dated the 1st June 1903, the rules under the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879, for the raising of loans by local authorities in the open market have been amended so as to admit of any particular loan being defined in sterling currency with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council.

2. His Excellency in Council gives notice that applications from local bodies for permission to issue sterling loans will be entertained only in cases in which there is a reasonable prospect of the money being raised at a rate of interest not exceeding 4 per cent., and at a price not appreciably below par. Applications should be made in sufficient time to admit of a reference to the Secretary of State before sanction is given to the issue of a sterling loan. Local bodies borrowing in sterling will have to make their own arrangements for bringing the capital raised to India and for remitting the interest to the holders of the stock. Such remittances will not be made by Government agency nor be brought on to the Government account.

3. The conditions set forth above will be applicable, not only to loans raised under the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1879, but also, as far as may be, to sterling loans which may be raised under special enactments by such local authorities as those specified in the margin.

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Report of the Select Committee on the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1903, together with the Bill as amended by the Committee, is, by order of the President, published for information:—

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1903, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin,* and have now the honour to submit this, our Report, with the Bill, as amended by us, annexed hereto.

2. The principal amendments are explained in the following paragraphs.

3. Clause 1 (3).—This clause is new. It is based on section 2 (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898), and is required in order to make it clear that pending cases are to be governed by the new law. If this provision were not made, evils which the Bill is designed to remedy would, to some extent, continue.

4. Clause 2 (2) (Bengal Act I of 1879, section 2).—We have inserted a definition of "bhagat bandhu mortgage," which is required for the purposes of section 10B, as now amended, and of the new section 152.

5. We have also inserted a clause to declare that "moveable property" includes standing crops. This is for the purpose of removing an existing uncertainty, and also to increase the facilities for realizing arrears of rent.

6. We have inserted a definition of "mundari khunt-kattidar" in clause 2 (2) of the Bill, and have made additions to the definitions of "tenure," "tenure-holder" and "raiyat" to show that mundari khunt-kattidars are neither "tenure-holders" nor "raiyats." We have also proposed various amendments

* Letter from R. R. Pope, Esq., I.C.S., Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur, No. 732, dated the 12th May, 1903. [Paper No 2.]

Letter from the Honorary Secretary to the British Indian Association, No. 298, dated the 28th May, 1903 [Paper No. 3.]

Letter from the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, No. 67A.T., dated the 30th June, 1903, with enclosures. [Papers No. 4.]

Letter from the Honorary Secretary to the Indian Association, dated the 4th July, 1903. [Paper No. 5.]

in clauses 7 to 10, 15, 21 (2), 22 to 25 (a), 28 and 42 of the Bill, with the object of adapting the Act to mundari khunt-kattidars, and have inserted some special provisions for this class of tenants in clause 41, which are explained in paragraph 36, post.

7. We have struck out the definition of "permanent tenure." The expression was used only in the section 36A which it was proposed by clause 13 of the Bill as introduced to insert in Bengal Act I of 1879; and, in the amalgamation of that section with the new section 34 contained in clause 16 of the Bill as now amended, it has not been found necessary to make use of the expression in question.

8. We have inserted a definition of "registered." It will be required for the purposes of the new sections 10A (b) and 152 (1), proviso.

9. We have struck out the definition of "rent" which was contained in clause 2 (e) of the Bill as introduced. The general consensus of local opinion is that no definition is needed, and we have not been able to devise any satisfactory definition. Hitherto the local Courts have not in any way been inconvenienced by the absence of a definition of rent. Since rent in these districts consists of cash, predial services and rakumats or payments in kind, it was considered impossible under any circumstances to accept the definition proposed in the Bill as originally presented. To have done so would have been in effect to mulct the landlords of a large portion of their rent, for which no reason was apparent.

10. We have inserted in the place of the original definition a mere declaration that the term "rent" includes money recoverable under any enactment for the time being in force as if it was rent. This declaration is taken from section 3 (5) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (VIII of 1885), and is required in order to make clear the application of sections 12 to 17 (receipts for rent and deposit of rent) and 123 (sale of tenures and holdings for arrears of rent) of Bengal Act I of 1879 to road cess and public works cess, and in order to extend the new section 34 (referred to in paragraph 25, post) to those resumable tenures for which no "rent," in the ordinary meaning of the word, is paid.

11. In the definition of "resumable tenure" we have inserted words to show, in accordance with the intention with which such tenures are granted, that the resumption may be made by the successor in title of the original grantee.

We have also struck out the words "free of all incumbrances," because it is not clear that any avoidance of incumbrances has usually been stipulated for on the grant of tenures of this class. The stipulation in question is rather one imposed by the Legislature, and we have accordingly transferred the Explanation to the clause so as to form a separate section (numbered 36A). We have made some alterations in the new section 36A, which are explained in paragraph 27, post.

Further, we have added to sub-clause (i) words to show that the failure of heirs, on which resumption may take place, is a failure of heirs in the male line, this being the recognized custom; and we have substituted the words "definite contingency" for "certain expressed contingency," since the term "expressed" might be taken to mean in writing, and the conditions are not always in writing.

12. We have included in the definition of "tenure-holder" the holders of tenures registered under the Chota Nagpur Tenures Act, 1869, since they are regarded as tenures under that Act.

13. Clause 3 (section 6).—We have added a clause to declare that every raiyat cultivating or holding land known as korkar, baiballa, khundwat, sajhwat, jalsasan or ariat (synonymous terms) shall have a right of occupancy in the land, so long as he pays the rent, irrespective of the period of his cultivation or holding. This clause merely confirms local custom, as recorded so long ago as the year 1875 by Mr. G. K. Webster, Manager of the Chota Nagpur Estate, and in 1876, by the then Commissioner of Chota Nagpur, for Hazaribagh.

14. By clause 4 of the Bill as introduced it was proposed to add a proviso to section 9 of Bengal Act I of 1879 to declare that, if any patta granted to a non-occupancy raiyat specifies a rate of rent in excess of that payable by such raiyats in accordance with local custom, the excess should not be payable. We have struck out the clause. Local officers are opposed to it, and we are not in possession of facts sufficient to lead us to provide for non-occupancy raiyats a protection which does not exist in other parts of Bengal.

15. Clause 4 (section 10A).—We have added a proviso to authorise the sale of a raiyat's holding for arrears of rent accruing in respect of the holding, and an Explanation to make it clear that a holding may not be sold for the recovery of arrears due to one or more only of several joint landlords. Landlords who have at heart the interest of their raiyats have represented that ejectment is too harsh a remedy and would result in depriving the raiyats of the value of the labour expended by them on their holdings.

We have also added an Explanation to make it clear that raiyats' holdings may be sold under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895 (Bengal Act I of 1895), for the recovery of loans granted under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, or the Agriculturists' Loans Act, 1884.

We have adopted the provision in section 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, that when a holding is sold for arrears of rent the rent shall be a first charge thereon.

16. Clause 4 (section 10B).—In order to recognise the common practice of raiyats putting in trust or leasing their holdings on proceeding to Assam under the Assam Labour and Emigration Act, 1901 (VI of 1901), we have extended the term of permissible mortgages and leases from two to five years. The term of the labour contract under the Act mentioned is four years, and an additional year should be allowed for the journey to Assam and back and for incidental delays.

We have, further, provided that the maximum period for which a bhagat-bandha mortgage may be made shall be seven years, this being by local custom what is regarded as necessary to meet the financial needs of the cultivators.

We have also provided, on the analogy of section 88 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, that no transfer of a raiyat's rights shall be binding on the landlord unless it is made with his consent in writing.

Finally, we have added a sub-section to authorise the Deputy Commissioner to put a raiyat into possession of his holding on the expiration of the period for which he has transferred his rights in it.

17. Clause 4 (sections 10A and 10B).—We desire to record our opinion that it will, in all probability, be necessary at some future time to devise a procedure for the purpose of preventing the evasion of sections 10A and 10B. It is understood that similar prohibitions are safeguarded by official action in the Sonthal Parganas.

18. Clause 5 (section 11).—In order to obviate doubts which might arise in consequence of the abandonment of the definition of "rent," we have expressly declared the new section 11 to apply to the levy of any money in excess of the rent legally payable (with interest) or any rakunats or predial services to which the landlord is not legally entitled.

As it would be impossible for the Deputy Commissioner to deal with all applications made under the section, we have added words to enable the Local Government to empower other officers to adjudicate upon them.

We have adopted the suggestion of the British Indian Association that the maximum penalty should be Rs. 200, as in section 75 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, instead of Rs. 500.

19. Clause 6 (section 12).—We have altered sub-section (3) so as to make it follow more closely the earlier part of section 58 (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act; and we have added a clause to authorise the Deputy Commissioner to award a portion of the fine to the tenant.

20. Clause 7 (section 13).—This clause is new. It adds clauses to section 13 of Bengal Act I of 1879, to declare definitely the cases in which rent may be deposited in the Court of the Deputy Commissioner. The absence of such a declaration has, in the past, caused much hardship to the tenantry and led to much perjury in applications, prepared by petition-writers, for the acceptance of deposits of rent.

21. Clause 11 (section 28B).—We have reduced from fifteen to seven years the period for which the rent of a tenure, an occupancy-holding or the holding of an under-raiyat having occupancy-rights is not to be enhanced, after entry of such rent in the record-of-rights. The main object of section 28B being to secure, with a minimum of friction, materials for future legislation, we think that seven years will be a sufficient period during which to bar the enhancement of such rents, as the contemplated legislation is likely to be accomplished within that period.

22. Clause 12 (section 30).—We have, in order to secure simplicity of calculation, substituted 6¼ for 6 per cent. as the rate of interest payable on arrears of rent. The new percentage works out at one anna in the rupee.

23. Clause 13 (section 31).—This clause is new. Since it is proposed [see paragraph 15, ante] to amend section 10A so as to allow the sale of holdings for arrears of rent, it is unnecessary to allow the ejectment for arrears of any but non-occupancy raiyats; and clause 13 of the amended Bill revises section 31 of Bengal Act I of 1879 accordingly, section 66 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act being taken as a model. When arrears accrue in respect of a non-occupancy holding, we think the landlord should have a right either to sell the holding or to eject the raiyat.

24. Clause 14 (section 32A).—This clause is new. It authorises the ejectment of any raiyat who, after the commencement of the new law, uses the land comprised in his holding in a manner which renders it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy. The clause is based on section 25 (a) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and is required to meet cases, as, for instance, those which have been frequent in Ranchi town, of raiyats transferring their holdings for building purposes.

25. Clause 16 (section 34).—We have recast this clause, and propose to repeal section 34 of Bengal Act I of 1879 altogether, and to substitute for it a new section, containing the following amendments:—

(1) transfers of tenures or portions thereof, by sale, gift, mortgage or exchange, are required to be registered, as well as transfers by succession or inheritance;

(2) the transferee himself, or his successor in title, is required to apply for registration;

(3) provision has been made, on the analogy of section 12 (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, for the levy of a registration-fee by the landlord;

(4) the clauses as to the time when application for registration should be made have been struck out, it being provided instead that the transferee shall not be entitled to recover rent until he has applied for registration and paid the registration-fee;

(5) the clauses as to the Deputy Commissioner putting the landlord into possession of a tenure, on failure of the transferee to register a transfer, have been abandoned, since as a matter of practice such a procedure could not be worked by the Deputy Commissioner. It is considered preferable to debar the transferee from recovering rent until he applies for registration of a transfer and pays or tenders the requisite fee;

(6) it has been expressly declared that the section shall not validate unlawful transfers, and shall not affect the right of the landlord to resume a resumable tenure;

(7) it has also been expressly declared that the mere registration of a transfer shall not be deemed to imply the consent of the landlord to the transfer being made, and that the landlord shall not be bound by the terms or conditions of any transfer.

26. Clause 19 (section 36A).—As it is now proposed to abandon the present procedure for giving khas possession to a zamindar of a resumable tenure when the transferee fails to register his transfer, no distinction between resumable and permanent tenures in the matter of registration is needed, and so section

36A which appeared in clause 13 of the Bill as introduced has been struck out. Such of its provisions as it is necessary to retain have been embodied in the new section 34 introduced by clause 16 of the amended Bill.

27. The new section 36A, as to the annulment of incumbrances on the resumption of a resumable tenure, reproduces the Explanation to clause 2 (f) of the Bill as introduced, with the following substantive alterations :—

(1) in the opening clause of sub-section (1) the words "or permission" are added for greater security;

(2) we have struck out sub-clause (i) of the Explanation to clause 2 (f) of the Bill as introduced. It is contrary to the essence of a resumable tenure that the grantee should create an under-tenure, to be binding on the grantor of the tenure. Persons in whose favour such under-tenures are created are perfectly aware that the grantee of the tenure holds it subject to a right of resumption on the happening of some definite contingency, and that their rights must come to an end on the happening of such contingency. The sub-clause in question was taken from section 160 (a) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and the considerations which make the sub-clause applicable in Bengal generally do not apply in Chota Nagpur. The abandonment of sub-clause (i) necessitates the abandonment of sub-clause (ii), and the latter has accordingly also been struck out;

(3) in order to prevent holders of resumable tenures from being misled into thinking they have a right to minerals, we have inserted the words "under lawful authority" after "or wherein a mine has been sunk," in clause (a), and have added a sub-section to declare expressly that this clause shall not be construed to confer on such holders any right over minerals which they do not otherwise possess;

(4) we have inserted clauses to protect from annulment any right to hold terraced lands known locally as "korkar" and by other synonymous names, also any right to hold land occupied by a sacred grove, and any mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy;

(5) sub-clause (v) of the Explanation to clause 3 (f) of the Bill as introduced saved from annulment any right conferred on an occupancy raiyat to hold at a rent which was a fair and reasonable rent at the time the right was conferred. We are not in possession of facts sufficient to show that the clause is necessary, and we have struck it out.

28. Clause 29 (section 88).—Since it is proposed (see paragraph 15, ante) to amend section 10A so as to allow the sale of holdings for arrears of rent, we have, by the present clause, declared section 88 to apply to non-occupancy raiyats only.

Following clause 26 of the Bill, we have extended from 15 to 30 days the period within which payment will operate to stay the execution of a decree under section 88. We have also added a clause, based on section 66 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, authorising the Court, for special reasons, to extend this period of thirty days.

Lastly, we have, in order to embody the decision of the High Court in the case of Ram Narayan Singh v. Lala Roghunath Sahai, I. L. R., 22 Calc., 467, inserted the word "final" in section 88.

29. Clause 30 (section 123).—We have, at the suggestion of the Ranchi Bar, added words to make it clear that all the provisions of the Bengal Rent Recovery (Under-tenures) Act, 1865 (Ben. Act VIII of 1865), shall, as far as may be, apply to the sale of tenures, under Bengal Act I of 1879, for arrears of rent.

We have added words to make section 123 applicable to holdings. Since it is proposed (see paragraph 15, ante) to authorise the sale of raiyati holdings for arrears of rent, it is necessary to provide a procedure for effecting the sale, and the most convenient plan is to adopt the procedure for the sale of tenures.

We have added a proviso to empower the Commissioner to prohibit or stay the sale of any tenure or portion of a tenure. At present the sanction of the Commissioner to any such sale is needed. This we think needless to retain, but we would for administrative reasons give the Commissioner the power to prohibit or stay the sale of a tenure. The Commissioner has similar powers in respect of sales of tenures under the Code of Civil Procedure.

To bring the second proviso into harmony with clause 2 (k) as now amended, we have inserted the words "or his successor in title" after "grantor."

30. Clause 32 (section 125).—We have added a proviso, taken from section 278 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to declare that a claim by a third party alleging that he is in possession of a tenure which it is proposed to put up for sale shall not be inquired into if the Court considers that the claim was designedly or unnecessarily delayed. Such claims are now a fruitful source of delay, to obviate which this proviso is required.

Additions have been made to the earlier parts of section 125, in consequence of the extension (see paragraph 29, ante) of section 123 to the sale of holdings.

31. Clause 34 (section 130A).—We have altered section 130A so as to make it follow section 310A of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882), embodying an amendment appearing in the pending Bill for the amendment of the Code.

32. Clause 37 (section 135).—We have altered this clause so as to declare that orders passed after decree and relating to the execution thereof shall be appealable to the Court to which an appeal from the decree itself would lie. Unless this is done confusion may result.

33. Clause 38 (sections 136 and 140).—Following clause 26 of the Bill, we have extended from 15 to 30 days the period for an appeal to the Deputy Commissioner.

34. Clause 39 (section 144).—We have added a clause to section 144 to declare that a second appeal shall lie to the High Court from any appellate decree passed by the Judicial Commissioner under Bengal Act I of 1879. This clause will restore the law as it was interpreted prior to the decision in Khedu Mahto v. Budhun Mahto [1900], I. L. R., 27 Calc., 508. As so many amendments are proposed by the present Bill, we consider it desirable that an opportunity should be afforded for obtaining a decision of the High Court on points of construction that may arise in the future working of the Act.

35. Clause 40 (section 144A).—This clause is new. It introduces a section, at the suggestion of the Judicial Commissioner, authorising that officer to transfer appeals to his own Court from the Court of the Deputy Commissioner. The new section will tend to lessen the chance of different orders being passed by appellate Courts in analogous cases.

36. Clause 41 (sections 151 to 164).—We understand that it is very necessary to have measures taken that will check the agitation which has for long disturbed the people, locally known as Mundaris, who inhabit certain parts of the Chota Nagpur Division. One of the chief causes of this agitation is the treatment which hitherto has been accorded to the khunt-kattidars, or descendants of the original clearers of the soil. We have had the advantage of hearing and examining the officer to whom has been entrusted the work of preparing a record-of-rights of the tract where these Mundaris are chiefly congregated, and in our opinion the sections we have embodied in the Bill with regard to this question will have the desired effect, as far as it is practicable to secure it.

The restrictions on transfer are what those most conversant with the nature of the tenancy recognize as being necessary.

Since the sale of these tenancies is to be forbidden, it is necessary in the interests of the landlord to provide for some summary method by which, in case the rent falls into arrear, the moveables of the debtors can quickly be attached. For this reason, and also with a view to hasten the disposal of claims and to lessen the costs, we have suggested, with regard to those tenancies for which a record-of-rights has been prepared, the employment for the realization of arrears of rent of the procedure of the Certificate Act, subject to certain restrictions.

We have also considered it essential to provide that the entries in the record-of-rights shall be final and conclusive, so that confidence may thereby be restored in the minds of these people.

37. Clause 43 (Bengal Act IV of 1897, section 4).—We have altered the words "legally assessable" to "fair and reasonable." The latter words will, we consider, provide a better standard for fixing the rent payable after commutation of predial conditions or services.

38. Clause 44 (Bengal Act IV of 1897, section 9A).—This clause is new. It embodies a new section, the object of which is to save much expense to landlords and tenants, by providing for the concurrent preparation of the records-of-rights and the record and commutation of predial conditions or services.

39. We recommend that the Bill be passed as now amended.

Addition to section 6.

3. To section 6 of the said Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act the following shall be added, namely:— Ben. Act I of 1879.

"Any land which a raiyat has from time to time received in exchange for land previously held by him shall, for the purpose of calculating, under this section, the period of twelve years, be deemed to be the same land as the land which he held before the exchange. [Cf. Act XI of 1898, s. 44, Explan. II.]

"Every raiyat who cultivates or holds land known as korkar, baiballa, khandwat, sajhwát, jalsasan or ariat shall have a right of occupancy in such land so long as he pays the rent payable on account of the same, notwithstanding that he has not cultivated or held the land for a period of twelve years."

Insertion of new sections, 10A and 10B.

4. After section 10 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"10A. (1) No decree or order shall be passed by any Court for the sale of the right of a raiyat in his holding, nor shall any such right be sold in execution of any decree or order: [Cf. Act XI of 1898, ss. 46 (f), 70 (f).]

Restrictions on sale of raiyats' rights.

"Provided as follows:—

(a) any holding may be sold, in execution of a decree of a competent Court, to recover an arrear of rent which has accrued in respect of the holding; and

(b) nothing in this section shall affect the terms or conditions of any contract registered before the first day of January, 1903.

"Explanation I.—Where a holding is held under joint landlords, and a decree has been passed for the share of the rent due to one or more, but not all, of them, proviso (a) does not authorise the sale of the holding in execution of such decree.

"Explanation II.—Proviso (b) does not render valid any document which is otherwise illegal or invalid, or authorise a Court to take judicial cognizance of any such document.

"Explanation III.—This sub-section does not prevent the sale of a holding for the recovery, under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895, of a loan granted for the benefit of the holding under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, or the Agriculturists' Loans Act, 1884. Ben. I of 1895. XIX of 1883. XII of 1884

"10B. (1) No transfer by a raiyat of his right in his holding or any portion thereof, by mortgage or lease for any period exceeding five years, or by sale, gift or any other contract or agreement, shall be valid to any extent: [Cf. Act XI of 1898, ss. 46 (f), (k); 70 (f), (h).]

Restrictions on transfer of their rights by raiyats.

"Provided that a raiyat may enter into a bhagat bandha mortgage of his holding or any portion thereof for any period not exceeding seven years.

"(2) No transfer by a raiyat of his right in his holding or any portion thereof shall be binding on the landlord unless it is made with his consent in writing. [Cf. Act VIII of 1885, s. 88.]

The Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Bill, 1903.

(Part II.—Amendment of the Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act.—Clauses 5—7.)

"(3) No transfer in contravention of sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be registered, or shall be in any way recognized or acted upon by any Court, whether in the exercise of civil, criminal or revenue jurisdiction.

"(4) At any time after the expiration of the period for which a raiyat has, under this section, transferred his right in his holding or any portion thereof, the Deputy Commissioner may, in his discretion, on the application of the raiyat, put the raiyat into possession of such holding or portion."

Amendment of section 11.

5. For section 11 of the said Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act the following shall be substituted, namely:— Ben. Act I of 1879.

"11. (1) A landlord who, except under any special enactment for the time being in force, levies from a tenant any money in excess of the rent legally payable, with interest thereon, or any rakumats or predial services to which he is not legally entitled, shall, on the application of the tenant, be liable, [Cf. Act XI of 1898, s. 10.]

Penalty on landlord levying anything in excess of rent or lawful rakumats or services.

under the order of a Revenue-officer not below the rank of Deputy Commissioner, or under the order of any officer who may be specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, to pay as penalty such sum as such officer thinks fit, not exceeding two hundred rupees, or, when double the amount or value of what is so levied exceeds two hundred rupees, not exceeding double that amount or value.

"(2) Such sum shall be awarded to the tenant as compensation."

Amendment of section 12.

6. For section 12 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"12. (1) Every tenant who makes a payment on account of rent to his landlord shall be entitled to obtain forthwith from the landlord or his agent a signed receipt for the same, in a form prescribed by the Local Government from time to time by notification in the Calcutta Gazette. [Cf. Act III of 1885, ss. 56 (1), (2), (3), 58.]

Receipts for rent.

"(2) The landlord or his agent shall prepare and retain a counterfoil of the receipt, in a form prescribed as aforesaid.

"(3) If any landlord or his agent, without reasonable cause, fails to grant such a receipt or to prepare and retain such a counterfoil, then, on proof thereof, the Deputy Commissioner may, in a summary proceeding, by order, impose on the landlord a fine which may extend to fifty rupees in respect of each such failure; and may, in his discretion, award to the tenant, by way of compensation, such portion of the fine as the Deputy Commissioner may think fit.

"(4) If, in any suit or other proceeding under this Act or any other law, the Court or presiding officer (not being the Deputy Commissioner) finds that any landlord or agent has failed—

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 190, dated 6th June 1903, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 440 of 1903) that, on 1st August 1903, the undermentioned buoys will be established in the approach to Fremantle:—

(a) A red conical buoy will be moored about one cable to the northward of Roe reef off the north coast of Rottnest island, with Bathurst point lighthouse bearing S. 6° E., distant 11 cables, and the western extremity of North point S. 60° W. Approximate position, lat. 31° 58′ S., long. 115° 33′ E.

(b) A red conical buoy will be moored on the northern edge of Beagle rocks to the southward of the entrance to Swan river, with the lighthouse on the end of the south breakwater bearing N. 55° E., distant $2\frac{1}{10}$ cables, and the extremity of the North breakwater N. 27° W.

Also, that on the same date the following alterations will be made in the Pilot Service:—

The Pilot station on Bathurst point will be removed to the Telegraph and Signal station near Arthur's head.

The Pilot Signal station at Bathurst point lighthouse and the station at Thompson's bay and also the Pilot look-out station at the main lighthouse on Rottnest island have been discontinued. Vessels therefore requiring a pilot should make the signal for one to the signal station at the main lighthouse on Rottnest island, not to Bathurst point, as stated in the above-mentioned Notice, and proceed to the Pilot Boarding ground, which is about five miles to the eastward of Bathurst point, and there await the pilot sent from Fremantle.

In proceeding to the Pilots' Boarding ground vessels should not attempt to use the South passage, between Middle bank and Champion rock.

The 7th July 1903.—The following is published for general information.

A. EARLE,

2. There has been no increase or decrease in the number of observatories under my direct control. There are 6 second-class and 39 third-class observatories and one voluntary observatory. The total number is 46.

There has been no change in the system of observations, the second-class observatories recording three sets of observations, viz., at 8 A.M., 10 A.M., and 4 P.M., and the third-class observatories recording observations at 8 A.M. only.

3. Automatic instruments recording pressure and temperature are in use at the following stations:—

Chittagong.	Puri.
Burdwan.	Cuttack.
Balasore.

The last-named station commenced automatic registration from 23rd September 1902. The instruments were taken by my head clerk and put up under his personal supervision. A barograph and an anemograph are in use at Saugor Island.

RESULTS OF INSPECTION AND WORK AT OBSERVATORIES.

6. 2nd class observatories.—Three out of the six second class observatories were inspected. Darjeeling was inspected by Sir John Eliot. The observations received from Darjeeling have been accurate throughout the year. Darbhanga, when inspected, was found to be in good condition, and the observations received from that station have been generally satisfactory. Hazaribagh at the time of inspection by my head clerk was found to be in a satisfactory condition. The work at Hazaribagh has been carefully done by Babu Nathu Lal, and the observations received during the past year, as in previous years, are trustworthy and accurate. Of the remaining three observatories which could not be inspected during the past year, Saugor Island and False Point continued to submit accurate observations, while the observations at Chittagong have not been so accurate.

7. 3rd class observatories.—The 3rd class observatories generally were found to be in good condition. Faridpur requires special mention, for, according to the report of my head clerk, the observatory was in a most satisfactory condition at the time of his visit on 11th and 12th June, in charge of Babu Hara

Kanta Bose, 3rd teacher of the Local Zilla School who was appointed as observer by me when I visited the observatory on 26th January 1902. Motihari observatory, when visited by my head clerk, was found to be in a bad condition. The observer was unusually late in attendance, and the instruments seemed not to have been taken care of. The observations submitted by him previous to the date of inspection were not reliable, but since the inspection there have been fewer mistakes, and the returns, &c., have been received punctually. The instruments at Barisal were found by my second clerk at the time of his visit in good condition, but the observer was absent on the first day of inspection without making any arrangement for the record of observations at 8 A.M. on that date. The barometric observations prior to the visit of inspection, were doubtful. This was found to be due to wrong adjustment of the vernier by the observer. The observer was found to be careless in his work and was warned to be more careful in future. When I visited Buxar, I found that the observer was absent on leave. At the time of my head clerk's visit the observatory at Rangpur was not in a satisfactory condition. The work of observations was being carelessly done by a clerk of the Post-office, and the instruments seemed to have been neglected. The Postmaster who is the observer and is responsible for the condition of the observatory, was warned. Pamban was inspected by Mr. Gaetane. The observatory at Purulia was started in August 1899 and since then it had not been inspected. During the visit of inspection various defects of the instruments were remedied, and the observer received some necessary instructions. The observatory shed is situated in the Jail grounds in a well exposed site. The barometer is in the office room of the Superintendent of the Jail, the rain-gauge in close proximity to the shed, and the wind instruments are on the top of the jail gate wall. Daltonganj was, for the first time, inspected by me since the establishment of the observatory in April 1893. The following are extracts from my report of inspection :—

"The barometer is in a room in the Civil Hospital, in good light. The wind instruments, on the roof of the hospital, are freely exposed. The thermometer shed and rain-gauge are on a rising ground about half, or a third of, a mile from the hospital and 300 yards from the gate of the jail, which is the only building or obstruction of any kind in the neighbourhood. Exposure of all the instruments is good. The observer had never had any instruction except what he had picked up from the book of instructions, etc. His interpretation of the instructions was, as might have been expected, in some respects not what was intended. But he was willing and most anxious to do what would give satisfaction, and I think in several important respects there will be greater accuracy in the future. The readings of the barometer must be wrong for years past. The wind observations are not reliable. The thermometers and rain-gauge have been accurately observed I believe."

The mercury in the barometers at Daltonganj, Buxar, Purulia, and Ranchi was found to be exceedingly dirty, and was cleaned at the time of the inspection. The mercury of the barometers at Hazaribagh, Gaya, and Krishnagar was also cleaned.

Of the 3rd class observatories that could not be visited during the past year, accurate observations were received from Berhampore, Jessore, Narayanganj, and Raniganj, while the observers at the remaining stations have been more or less careless.

8. Voluntary Observatory:—The condition of the Cooch Behar Observatory at the time of the visit of my head clerk was very satisfactory, and the observations received have been accurate throughout the year.

9. Sir John Eliot, who visited Bogra, suggested the removal of the thermometer shed from its present position in the circuit-house compound to a site near the jail. The Public Works Department has been asked to effect the removal.

10. The question of removing the wind instruments of the Malda Observatory from the roof of the circuit-house (vide page 3 of my Administration Report for 1901-1902) was settled by me when I visited Malda. In consultation with Mr. B. De, Magistrate of Malda, it was arranged to fix the wind-vane and the anemometer on the roof of the cutchery building (the highest in the locality). The removal has since been effected.

11. During his visit to Puri my head clerk suggested the advisability of removing the wind instruments from the roof of the District Board's office, which is at some distance, to the roof of the newly-built Customs shed. The removal has since been effected.

12. The following observers were granted special awards by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India and Director-General of Indian Observatories for storm observations, etc., taken by them during the past year:—

Station.	Amount.
	Rs.	A.
Burdwan	1	8
Jessore	1	0
Mymensingh ...	1	0
Saugor Island ...	9	8
Pamban	7	0

13. Work at, and inspection of, Raingauge stations.—The number of Raingauge stations on the 31st March 1903 was 374, i.e, eight more than on the corresponding date last year. Ten stations were started and two, viz., Khiri and Chausa were closed during the year.

14. The names of the stations started during the year are given in the following table:—

Station.	District.	Station.	District.
Khutona ...	Darbhanga.	Koderma ..	Hazaribagh.
Ludania ...		Gumla ...	Ranchi.
Athmalik ...	Orissa Tributary Mahals.	Subarnakhali ...	Mymensingh.
Hindol ...		Tanor ...	Rajshahi.
Boud ...		Siripur ...	Saran.

15. Generally speaking, the returns from the rain-registering stations were duly received, but there were a few stations as noted below, which sent the reports irregularly:—

Station.	District.	Station.	District.
Subarnakhali ...	Mymensingh.	Dharmsala ...	Cuttack.
Rajauli ...	Gaya.	Salipore
Barkope ...	Sonthal Parganas.	Sadar ...	Muzaffarpur.

Nanibat ...		Ramchandrapur ...	Tippera.
Bhabua ...	Shahabad.	Daudkandi ...
Sasaram ...		Kasba ...
Mohania ...		Nasirnagar ...

The co-operation of the District Officers has been requested with the view of obtaining prompt reports from these stations in future.

16. Four hundred and fifteen visits of inspection were made against 300 during 1901-1902 and 301 during 1900-1901. The total number of rain-gauges inspected was 232 against 177 in the previous year and 194 in the year 1900-1901. The reports received from the inspecting officers showed that the rain-guages were for the most part in good condition and the rainfall registers properly kept.

17. The following table shows the distribution of the 374 rainfall stations in the various districts in Bengal, as it stood on 31st March 1903, and the number of stations inspected in each district during the past year:—

18. The system of supplying rain-gauges and measure glasses to the rain-registering officers in Bengal from the Meteorological Office, Bengal, by an arrangement mentioned in paragraph 17 of my Administration Report for 1899-1900, worked satisfactorily.

19. Departmental Reports.—The short annual report on the meteorology of Bengal for the year 1902, with two maps illustrating the actual and percentage rainfall, was prepared before the close of the past official year. (It was submitted to the Government of Bengal on 4th April 1903.)

20. The report on the meteorology of Bengal for the monsoon season of 1902 was prepared and submitted to the Government of Bengal on the 26th January 1903. The usual number of rainfall maps illustrating the distribution of rainfall over the Province, the district variation from the normal and the percentage variation from the normal for the monsoon period of 1902, were also prepared and submitted to Government with the monsoon summary.

21. The monthly rainfall table for Bengal and the meteorological table for Bengal and Assam, with a summary of the chief features of the weather of the month, was published in the Calcutta Gazette about the middle of every month.

22. The following annual rainfall tables were prepared and published in the Calcutta Gazette. They were for the period January to December:—

Table I—Showing the monthly and annual rainfall at 371 stations in Bengal for 1902.

Table II—Showing the monthly and annual average rainfall at 318 rainfall stations in Bengal.

Table III—Comparison table of the rainfall of 1902 at 318 rainfall stations in Bengal with averages of previous years.

Addenda to the rainfall table of the Province of Bengal for the year 1902.

23. Charts showing the distribution of actual rainfall, the variation from the normal and the percentage variation, were prepared and submitted monthly to the Government of Bengal during the period May to October 1902: and copies were sent to the Sanitary Commissioner.

30. The dates of the principal storms and barometric depressions occurring during the past year are given in the first of the two following tables, and the action taken in the matter of issuing storm warnings and hoisting storm signals is indicated in the second of these tables:—

Table giving a brief statement of the storms which affected the Bay of Bengal Coast during the year 1902-1903.

Number of storm.	Period of depression or storm.	Character of storm.	Coast affected.
1	May 5th and 6th ...	Cyclonic storm which was close to Diamond Island on the morning of the 5th May—the centre probably about midway between that station and the Andaman Islands Squally to stormy weather prevailed over the sea area to the south west of Diamond Island. During the following 24 hours, the storm became more extensive and moved in a north-easterly direction. The chief feature of the disturbance was the strong cyclonic winds, not only while the depression was over the sea, but until it had moved some distance inland. By the 6th the disturbance had almost ceased.	Burma and Arakan Coasts.

Number of storm.	Period of depression or storm.	Character of storm.	Coast affected.
2	July 4th to 6th ...	This disturbance began as a diffused depression about the 4th July, extending over the south of the Bay, and causing, if the reports from Diamond Island be accepted, very strong winds in the east of the Bay. The depression formed further south than is usual in July, and moving in a north-westerly direction, crossed the coast of the Circars on the 6th.	Burma and Circars Coasts.
3	July 13th to 16th ...	Barometric depression which formed over the north of the Bay on the 13th July and was moving slowly northwards up to the 15th, but thereafter it moved north-westward. On the 16th, the centre was between Midnapore and Chaibassa. This depression never attained to more than moderate depth near the centre, but there was a very steep gradient over the whole Bay area, and with it exceptionally strong winds and rough sea.	Bengal and Orissa Coasts.
4	August 22nd to 24th ...	There was a well marked depression over the area represented by Rangoon and Moulmein on the 22nd August. It continued to move north-westward, the central area being south-east from Akyab on the 23rd and close to the Orissa Coast on the 24th. When the centre was in the north-west angle of the Bay, there was a steep pressure gradient with strongish winds over the whole sea area On the 25th the depression was inland and over Chota Nagpur.	Ditt
5	August 31st and September 1st.	For several days, this disturbance was very slight and was shown as a wide diffused depression over the north of the Bay with light irregularly cyclonic winds at coast stations. On the 31st it was better defined. the central area was near the south coast of Orissa, and a steeper pressure gradient had developed over the south and centre of the Bay. The depression was still shallow, and the greatest defect was ·1 inch at False Point. On the 1st September the centre was still over the Bay, but it then moved rapidly westward.	Orissa Coast.
6	September 6th and 7th	This depression was only faintly outlined by the coast observations between the 3rd and 6th September and became well defined over the north-west angle of the Bay on the 6th, with a moderately steep gradient towards the south-east. From the north-west angle it moved slowly northwards into the central districts, and there it almost entirely filled up, with general heavy rain in Bengal Proper.	Ditto.
7	September 24th and 25th	This was a slight disturbance while over the north-west angle of the Bay, but developed inland. No special warning was required, and the chief feature was the heavy rainfall inland.	Bengal Coast.
8	October 20th to 22nd ..	Shallow depression which formed in the east of the Bay and was of brief duration. It caused some increase of wind at Burma stations, and on breaking up, a slight disturbance entered the north of the Bay, but had little influence on the general weather conditions over the Province	Orissa Coast.
9	October 28th to 30th ..	Shallow depression which crossed the Madras Coast between Madras and Cuddalore from the south-east The greatest deficiency in pressure was only ·1-inch, but the disturbance was remarkable, because of the exceptionally heavy rain which fell on the coast between Madras and Vizagapatam between the 28th and 30th September, and the strong winds between Masulipatam and Vizagapatam	Circars and Coromandel Coasts.
10	November 16th to 18th	Towards the south of the Bay conditions were almost continuously unsettled, with strong winds and rough sea, but no definite cyclonic disturbance developed. As usually happens under such circumstances, rainfall was of almost daily occurrence on the Madras Coast, and at times heavy rain fell, notably between the 17th and 21st November.	Ditto.
11	December 15th ..	Slight depression which crossed the Madras Coast from the Bay, moving in a westerly direction.	Ditto.

Table showing the action taken by the Bengal Meteorological Office in warning the coasts affected by the storms enumerated in the previous table.

Storm number.	Hoisting of storm signals.			Warning of ports by cautionary telegrams.
	Ports ordered to hoist signals.	When hoisted.	When lowered.	Ports warned by cautionary telegrams.	Time and date of despatch of cautionary telegrams.

31. The thanks of the Department are due to the tea and indigo planters, to the Moravian Missionaries at Pedong, and to the Chinese Commissioner of Customs at Yatung (in Tibet) who have kindly continued to send rainfall returns during the past year, to the Surveyor-General, Ceylon, for sending meteorological observations taken at Colombo and Trincomallee for the daily weather report, and to Messrs. Mackinnon Mackenzie & Company, Agents of the British India Steam Navigation Company, for allowing the commanders of their vessels to telegraph summaries of the weather experienced during their voyages.

32. Office Establishment.—The various members of my office establishment have given me full satisfaction as in former years. A considerable amount of extra work has been caused by the numerous applications for statistics in connection with the revision of the Imperial Gazetteer. In some cases the information required could not be supplied without a careful search of the records, in others averages had to be computed. In all cases, by working overtime, the information was supplied with the least possible delay.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE 1903.

In the west of Bihar and Chota Nagpur almost rainless weather prevailed during the first two weeks of June; in other parts of the Province throughout the month, and in the above western districts during the latter half, showers were of daily occurrence, with two periods of almost general heavy rainfall, more especially in the east. The first period of heavy rain began about the 16th in the east, and continued for four or five days in Assam and Bengal Proper. The cause of the rainfall is not apparent, but there was probably a depression developing over Bengal as pressure fell, during those days, from being more than ·1 inch above to about ·16 inch below the normal, the latter in East Bengal on the 20th and 21st.

The low-pressure area was slowly displaced southward over the north of the Bay, where, as compared with the normal, there was a very slight depression on the 23rd, but a brisk rise was general in the depression area on the following day, and the distribution had become practically normal.

On the 25th a shallow depression formed in South-West Bengal with a regular cyclonic arrangement of light winds. This depression, without intensifying, moved first in a north-westerly direction into Chota Nagpur, then recurved, and passing over the west of Bihar on the 27th broke up on reaching the Himalayas. During its northerly advance moderate rain fell in the western districts. The rainfall became more heavy after the recurving commenced on the 26th, and thereafter for two days very heavy rain fell in North Bengal. The heaviest falls in 24 hours during those days in North Bengal were 11 inches at Bhagatpur and Fulbari. On the 27th and 28th the majority of the stations in Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling, and Cooch Bihar districts reported from 2 to 6 inches.

Except during these two periods of general rainfall, when well-marked monsoon conditions prevailed, the weather was remarkable for the numerous thunderstorms to which the showers were due. These local storms not only caused a fair amount of rainfall in Bengal Proper and some of the western districts, but also almost continuous low temperature. Maximum temperature on an average for the month was 1° to 3° below the normal in North Bengal, the adjacent part of East Bengal, and the greater part of Bihar, the lowest temperatures being at Motihari and Darbhanga. Minimum temperature was below the normal by about 1° except in Chota Nagpur. Mean temperature was low in Assam, North Bengal, and Bihar, about normal in Lower Bengal, and high in Orissa and Chota Nagpur—by 2° in the latter.

Unusually settled weather prevailed over the Bay. No cyclonic storm formed over the sea, but a local storm of an exceptional character developed on the 11th in the south of Orissa. It appears to have been a disturbance of the thunderstorm class, though more widely extended than these usually are, with high pressure in the centre. In the early morning strong northerly winds with rough sea developed at Gopalpur, and the disturbance moving rapidly southward squally weather was experienced in the north of the Circars on the forenoon of the 11th and in the south of the Circars in the afternoon. By the morning of the 12th weather was again settled on that part of the coast, but pressure was still high at Coconada and Masulipatam.

On the 16th and 17th some disturbance occurred on the Madras coast, but there was no low-pressure area or cyclonic winds, and the only change was a sudden widespread fall of temperature.

At the beginning of the month pressure was high and rising in Bengal, and the distribution was uniform for the season. Light winds prevailed over the Bay except in the north-west angle; and showers were fairly general at inland stations. The rise of pressure continued for several days, but there was little change in the general weather conditions except that temperature was as much as 6° below the normal in parts of North Bengal and Bihar on the 2nd and 3rd and again on the 6th.

Rainfall was less general during the second week, temperature rose, and was considerably above the normal, especially in the western districts. Considerable oscillations in pressure occurred with some defect at times, but by the middle of the month conditions had become very similar to what prevailed at the beginning. Then the first general disturbance began. At first there was only a slight fall of pressure in the east on the 16th, with general rainfall in Bengal Proper and a rapid fall of temperature in the northern districts. Pressure continued to fall on the 17th and 18th—rapidly on the latter date, and on the 19th the area of lowest pressure was in the west of Bihar. During these days rainfall continued heavy in Bengal Proper. It extended slowly westward, and was most general in the western districts on the 20th and 21st.

Pressure was still low on the 20th, but it began to rise on the 21st. This rise continued until the 24th, when there was a normal distribution except in the east of the Bay, where there was a small defect.

On the 25th a rapid fall of pressure occurred in South-West Bengal, and the second disturbance of the month began. The shallow depression moved towards Chota Nagpur on the 25th, and was in the west of Bihar on the 26th. The pressure gradient was throughout not more than moderate over the Bay, and the strong winds were confined to the north-west angle. On the 27th Saugor Island reported 29 and Gopalpur 30 miles an hour.

Heavy rainfall was reported from the extreme north of the Province on the 27th The rapid rise of pressure which set in over the west of Bihar after the depression broke up caused a low-pressure area over the central districts with continued heavy rainfall in North Bengal. As the rising pressure advanced eastward, this low-pressure area disappeared, and by the 30th rainfall had, to a large extent, ceased.

Pressure was generally high during the early part of the month. Soon after the 15th, apparently in connection with the rainfall which about that date became general over Bengal, a brisk fall of pressure occurred, and for some days there was moderate defect.

The recovery, which was practically completed by the 24th, was immediately followed by the formation of a shallow depression over South-West Bengal. During the passage of this depression northwards over the western districts, pressure was again low in Bengal until the 27th, on which date a rapid rise began in Bihar and extended eastward over the Province. By the end of the month high pressure was again established over the whole area.

Owing to the high pressure during the first half of the month and the low pressure in the latter half, mean pressure for the whole month is normal or in slight excess. The greatest excess is ·03 inch in North Bengal and parts of East Bengal and Bihar.

Temperature was at times high in the western districts, and day readings were more frequently above than below the normal in Lower Bengal, Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and the west of Bihar. Mean maximum temperature for the month was, as already stated, above the normal by 1° or 2° except in North Bengal and the adjacent parts of Bihar and East Bengal. Mean minimum temperature was about 1° below the normal except in Chota Nagpur, where there was a small excess.

The mean variation from the normal in Chota Nagpur was an excess of 2°, in Orissa nearly 1°, and in South-West Bengal about half a degree. In North Bengal, Bihar, and Assam there was defect of between a half and one degree, and in East Bengal mean temperature was practically normal.

Rainfall was almost nil in the west of Bihar and Chota Nagpur during the first two weeks. With that exception showery weather was almost general throughout the month, and two periods of moderate to heavy rain in all parts of the Province occurred about the 16th and 25th. Rainfall was at times very heavy in the eastern districts, more especially in the extreme north-east, after the shallow depression filled up in Bihar on the 27th. Owing to the local character of the rainfall, except during those two periods, the total fall for the month was considerably below the normal in the western districts, while in the east of Bengal and in Assam there was a moderate excess.

North Bengal received 20·5 and East Bengal 19·7 inches—the former 2·8 and the latter 2·2 inches in excess. In South-West Bengal and Bihar defect was 1·6 inches, in Orissa 2·1 inches, and in Chota Nagpur 3·9 inches.

All the stations in Assam for which information has been received give excess amounts except Silchar, where there was a small defect. Sibsagar received more than double the normal, Shillong 9 inches excess, Dhubri 7 inches excess, and Gauhati 5 inches excess. At Cherapunjee the fall was 110 inches, the normal being 102.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, for... ly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direc...ions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 a.m. on that day.

o, overcast; t, thunder; p, passing temporary showers; K, strong wind.

No. 35.—Notification.—It is hereby notified for general information [as required by section XII of Act V (B.C.) of 1864] that the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes, under the provisions of section XI of the same Act, to make the following rules in regard to the Madaripur bhil channel, as defined in this Department Notification No. 128, dated the 26th June 1900:—

1. Every vessel passing through the bhil channel shall stop at the prescribed toll station, as notified in the schedule of tolls for the purpose of determining the tolls payable.

2. For the purposes of these rules, vessels other than rafts, timbers, bamboos or other floating material shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the usual native types of build.

„ II.—To include all steamers, flats and barges, and such other square built boats as should, in the opinion of the Collector of tolls, be included.

3. The net tonnage of every vessel of class I, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

A.—The product of half the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water-line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

B.—The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of the breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

C.—The maundage on which tollage shall be charged shall be a simple multiple of 12½ maunds, rejecting any remainder, by which the maundage, calculated as above, may exceed such simple multiple.

4. For vessels in class II the tonnage shall be determined as follows:—

The tonnage of steamers shall be the registered tonnage as given in the certificate of survey of the steamer.

Tolls shall be levied on the actual weight of cargo carried on steamers, flats, barges and other vessels included in this class, as declared in the manifests.

5. Every vessel shall be furnished at the toll station with a ticket on which the name of the serang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage of the vessel, the nature and weight of the cargo it contains, and the amount of toll charged, shall be entered.

6. This ticket may be demanded and checked by any navigation officer while the vessel is within the limits of the bhil channel, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose.

7. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll station before a vessel is permitted to proceed. Provided that the Collector of Tolls appointed under section VIII of the Act may at his discretion permit vessels belonging to individuals or firms of recognized standing to proceed without pre-payment, on an undertaking that the bills for tollage due shall be liquidated monthly on presentation.

8. The term "Navigation Officer," as used in Rule 6, shall include the Collector of Tolls appointed under section VIII of the Act and the officer or subordinate of the Public Works Department in charge of the subdivision or section within which the channels is situated.

SCHEDULE XVII.

RULES AS TO THE USE OF BUILDING-SITES AND THE EXECUTION OF BUILDING-WORK.

[See sections 363, 370, 373, 374, 377, ... 391, 567, 582 and 583.]

Part I.—Building-sites.

Conditions as to use of building-sites.

1. No piece of land shall be used as a site for the erection of a building—

(1) if the building is to abut on a street, unless the site is of such a shape that the face of the building can be made parallel to the line of the street, or as nearly parallel to the said line as the Chairman may consider practicable; and,

(2) if the site is within thirty feet of a tank, unless the owner satisfies the Engineer that he will take such order as will prevent any risk of the domestic drainage of the building passing into the tank; and

(3) if the building to be erected is a public building, a dwelling-house or a hut,—

(a) unless the site is certified by the Engineer to be dry and well drained or to be capable of being well drained, and

(b) if the site is a filled-up tank, or has been filled up with or used for depositing rubbish, offensive matter or sewage, unless the site was so filled up or last so used more than five years previously, and unless the Chairman has examined the site and granted a certificate to the effect that it is, from a sanitary point of view, fit to be built upon.

Parts II and III.—Masonry Buildings.

Height.

2. (1) If a masonry building is situated at the side of any street to which the Commissioners in meeting may declare this rule to apply, no portion of the building shall intersect any of a series of imaginary lines drawn across the street at an angle of forty-five degrees with the plane of the ground, such lines being drawn from the street alignment on the side of the street which is the more remote from the building in question, at the level of the pavement or of the centre of the street.

Explanation.—If a building be placed at the edge of the street, its height must not exceed the width of the street; but, if the building or one or more of its storeys be set back, the height of the building may be increased, subject to the condition that no portion of the building, after the height is increased, intersects any of the aforesaid lines.

(2) In the case of any masonry building which is re-erected in a street, in existence at the date of this notification, which is less than twenty-five feet wide, the angle at which the lines referred to in sub-rule (1) are to be drawn shall be fifty-six-and-a-half degrees instead of forty-five degrees.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-rule (1) or sub-rule (2), the Commissioners in meeting may, by order published in the Calcutta Gazette, declare that, in any street in existence at the date of this notification which is specified in the order, the erection of two-storeyed masonry buildings not exceeding twenty-eight feet in height will be permitted without complying with the requirements of those sub-rules.

(4) If a masonry building is situated on a corner plot, so as to abut upon more than one street, the height of the building shall be regulated by the wider of such streets so far as it will abut or abuts upon such wider street, and also so far as it will abut or abuts upon the narrower of such streets to a distance of forty feet from the wider street.

Level of floor.

3. The floor or lowest floor of every masonry building erected or re-erected from the ground-level must be constructed at such level as will admit of—

(a) the construction of a drain sufficient for the effectual drainage of the building and placed at such level as will admit of the drainage being led into some municipal sewer at the time existing or projected, and

(b) the provision of the requisite communication with some sewer into which the drainage may lawfully be discharged, at a point in the upper half of such sewer, or with some other means of drainage into which the drainage may lawfully be discharged.

Building over municipal drain.

4. A masonry building shall not be placed over any municipal drain, except with the written consent of the Chairman.

Passage for access to building from street.

5. Where only detached buildings are allowed, the passage affording access to a masonry building from the street must be at least eight feet wide .....

Distance between building line and street alignment.

6. (1) In any street, laid out after the date of this notification, to which the Commissioners in meeting may declare this rule to apply, and in which continuous building is allowed, the distance between the building line and the street alignment shall not be less than four feet.

(2) Subject to the approval of the Chairman, an open verandah may be erected upon the space between such line and alignment.

Foundation.

7. (1) Except with the sanction of the Chairman, the foundation of a masonry building must rest on solid ground.

(2) The spread of the foundation must be such that the pressure on the soil, ... shall not be greater than one ton on the square foot.

(3) The levels of the foundation must be such as the Chairman may consider satisfactory.

Plinth.

8. The plinth of a masonry building must be at least two feet above the level of the centre of the nearest street.

Footings for walls.

9. Every wall of a masonry building must be constructed so as to rest upon proper footings having regular offsets and a horizontal spread on each side of the wall of not less than one-half the height of the footings, unless an adjoining wall interferes, in which case the footings may, subject to the provisions of sub-rule (2) of rule 7, be omitted, where that wall adjoins.

Outer walls.

10. The outer walls of a masonry building must be constructed of brick or some other hard and incombustible substance.

Bonding of walls.

11. All walls of a masonry building must be properly bonded.

Walls in building of more than one storey.

13. If a masonry building exceeds one storey in height,—

(a) every wall must be solidly put together with—

(i) good cement, or

(ii) good lime, or

(iii) mortar compounded with good cement and sand or other suitable material, or

(iv) mortar compounded with good lime and sand or other suitable material;

(b) the proportions of the materials forming such mortar must be such as are approved by the Chairman;

(c) no part of any wall, other than a cornice or moulding, shall overhang any part of a wall underneath it; and

(d) every wall must be of such thickness as the Chairman may consider necessary to ensure safety, regard being had to the height of the building, the materials of which it is constructed, and the purpose for which it is intended to use it.

Beams and girders.

15. (1) All beams and girders in a masonry building must be supported by a breadth of brick-work, stone or other solid substance sufficient to secure their stability.

(2) The bearing of a beam or girder on a wall shall not, without the sanction of the Chairman, be less than three-fourths of the thickness of the wall.

Part IV.—Dwelling-houses and other domestic buildings.

Proportion of site for dwelling-house which may be built upon.

17. The total area covered by all the buildings (including verandahs) on any site used for a dwelling-house shall not exceed two-thirds of the total area of the site, except with the sanction of the Chairman.

Open space in rear of building.

22. (1) Except in localities where the erection of only detached buildings is allowed, there must be in the rear of every domestic building an open space extending along the entire width of the building and belonging exclusively to the building, unless the back of the building abuts on an open square or the like, of not less than twenty feet in width, which is dedicated to public use and is consequently not likely to be built upon.

(2) The minimum distance across such space from every part of the building to the boundary line, or (if the boundary is a wall) the inner edge of the boundary wall, of the land or building immediately opposite such part, shall be six feet.

Relaxation of rule 22 in case of irregular site.

23. If any person desires to erect a domestic building in a street laid out before the date of this notification upon a site which, before the date of this notification, was occupied by a domestic building, and the site is of such a nature that it is impracticable to provide an open space in the rear of the building of the dimensions prescribed by rule 22, the Chairman may relax the provisions of that rule:

Provided that—

(a) such open space shall be left as the Chairman may consider practicable, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, and

(b) not more than two-thirds of the total area of the site shall be occupied by masonry buildings or verandahs.

Open space at sides of building.

24. (1) Except in localities where the erection of only detached buildings is allowed, if either side of a domestic building is not attached to the adjacent building, and if such side does not abut on an open square or the like which is dedicated to public use and is consequently not likely to be built upon, there must be between the buildings an open space extending along the entire length of such side and belonging exclusively to the said domestic building.

(2) The minimum distance across such space from every part of the said domestic building to the boundary line, or (if the boundary is a wall) the inner edge of the boundary wall, of the land or building immediately opposite such part, shall be four feet.

Interior courtyards and outward open spaces to be raised.

25. (1) Every interior courtyard and every open space prescribed by rule 22 or rule 24 must be raised at least one foot above the level of the centre of the nearest street, so as to admit of easy drainage into the street.

27. The following further provisions shall have effect in the case of dwelling-houses in bustees, that is to say—

(a) the owner of the land in a bustee on which a dwelling-house is to be erected must give up all land which may be required so as to leave a space of at least eighteen feet in front of and along the entire length of the boundary line of the premises;

TO

FACILITATE THE FAMILY SETTLEMENT OF ESTATES IN BENGAL.

WHEREAS it is expedient to facilitate the making of family settlements of estates in Bengal;

And whereas the Bengal Land Revenue Sales Act, 1859, and the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, having been passed by the Governor General of India in Council, the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained, under section 5 of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, to the passing of this Act; XI of 1859. IV of 1882. 55 & 56 Vict., c. 14.

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. This Act may be called The Bengal Settled Estates Act, 1903, and it extends to the whole of Bengal.

Definitions

2. (1) In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "estate" includes immoveable property, money and any jewellery or other moveable property which should, in the opinion of the Local Government, be treated as heirlooms;

(b) "settled estate" means an estate in respect of which a settlement made under this Act is for the time being in force; [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 12.]

(c) "settlor" or "first tenant for life" means the person who makes a settlement under this Act;

(d) "second tenant for life" means the person appointed by a settlement made under this Act to succeed to a settled estate on the death of the first tenant for life;

(e) "tenant for life" means a first or second tenant for life;

(f) "son," in the case of anyone whose personal law permits adoption, includes an adopted son; and [Ben. Act I of 1859, s. 3, cl. (49).]

(g) "incumbrance" includes any charge, debt, demand or claim. [U. P Act II of 1900, s. 6, prov.]

(2) A person shall be deemed, for the purposes of this Act, to be "competent to contract" if he is of the age of majority according to the law to which he is subject, and is of sound mind and is not disqualified from contracting by any law to which he is subject. [Act IX of 1872, s. 11; U. P. Act II of 1900, s 2.]

(3) All words and expressions used in this Act, which are defined in the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, shall have the same meaning as in that Act. [Bill of 1893, cl. 2.] IV of 1882.

Application for permission to settle an estate

3. Any landholder who— [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 3.]

(a) is competent to contract, and

(b) has a permanent, heritable and transferable right in an estate, and

(c) is in possession of such estate,

may apply to the Local Government for permission to make a settlement of such estate or any portion thereof under this Act.

Power to reject application.

4. The Local Government may, in its discretion, by written order, reject any such application, either summarily or after any inquiry which it may think proper to make. [U. P Act II of 1900, s. 4.]

Notification as to application.

5. If any application made under section 3 is not rejected under section 4; and if the Local Government is satisfied that the applicant fulfils the conditions specified in clauses (a), (b) and (c) [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 5.]

of section 3, the Local Government may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, publish a notification—

(a) stating the purport of the application;

(b) calling upon all persons, having or entitled to incumbrances enforceable against the applicant or the estate or portion of the estate to which the application relates, to send to the Local Government written notice of such incumbrances within a period of six months from the date of the notification, and

(c) intimating that any objections to the proposed settlement, whether urged by incumbrancers or by other persons interested in the estate, which may be communicated to the Local Government in writing within the said period, will be duly considered.

Rejection or approval of application after notification.

6. At any time after the expiration of the said period, and after considering any notices and objections received under section 5, and after such inquiry (if any) as it may think fit to make, the Local Government may, in its discretion, by written order, either— [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 6.]

(a) reject such application, or

(b) grant permission to make the proposed settlement, in respect either of the whole of the property to which the application relates or of any part thereof:

Provided that, if any incumbrances referred to in clause (b) of section 5 have been brought to the notice of the Local Government, such permission shall not be granted without the written consent of all persons having or entitled to the benefit of such incumbrances, unless—

(i) the incumbrances are first discharged, or

(ii) a condition is made for the insertion in the settlement of provisions, to be approved by the Local Government, for the discharge of the incumbrances, or

(iii) the Local Government is satisfied that the persons having or entitled to the benefit of the incumbrances would not be prejudiced by the grant of such permission.

Settlement of estates for three generations.

7. Every settlement made under this Act in respect of any estate shall provide that the estate shall be held by the settlor for his life, and thereafter by the eldest or only son of the settlor for his life, and thereafter by the eldest or only son of such son absolutely:

Provided that, if the settlor desires to exclude his eldest or only son from holding the estate, on the ground of proved incapacity or defect of character, the Local Government may permit him to provide that the estate shall, after his own life, be held by any other son of the settlor for his life, and thereafter by the eldest or only son of such son absolutely.

Further remainders.

8. Every settlement made under this Act shall also contain provisions for vesting the estate in some other person or persons in the event of the gift to the second tenant for life or his son failing to take effect.

Further provisions in settlements.

9. (1) Every settlement made under this Act shall specify all incumbrances referred to in clause (b) of section 5 which have been brought to the notice of the Local Government.

(2) Every such settlement shall also contain such provisions as may be approved by the Local Government with regard to the following matters, namely:—

(a) the discharge of incumbrances on the estate, and the payment of interest thereon;

(b) the maintenance of the widows, unmarried daughters and relatives (other than the second tenant for life) of the settlor;

(The Bengal Settled Estates Bill.—Sections 10-12.)

(c) the management of the estate after the decease of the settlor and during the minority of the second tenant for life;

(d) the management of the estate after the decease of the second tenant for life and during the minority of the next successor.

(3) If any settlement made under this Act comprises money or moveable property, the settlement shall contain such provisions as may be approved by the Local Government for vesting such money or property in a trustee and for the investment of such money in securities authorised by section 20 of the Indian Trusts Act, 1882. II of 1882

(4) In addition to the various matters hereinbefore specified, the Local Government may require the insertion in any settlement made under this Act of any provision which it may think fit, and may make its approval of the settlement conditional on such insertion. [Bill of 1893, cl. 6 (3).]

Supplementary settlements and fresh settlements.

10. (1) At any time after a settlement has been made under this Act a tenant for life may, if he is competent to contract, apply to the Local Government for permission— [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 7.]

(a) to make a supplementary settlement for the purpose of adding to the settled estate any further property in which he has a permanent, heritable and transferable right, and of which he is in possession; or

(b) to make a fresh settlement of the estate, in supersession of the former settlement.

(2) The provisions of sections 4, 5 and 6 shall apply to all applications for permission to make a supplementary settlement.

(3) When an application for permission to make a fresh settlement is received, the Local Government may, in its discretion, after such inquiry (if any) as it may think fit to make, by written order, either—

(i) reject such application, or

(ii) grant permission to make the proposed settlement, in respect either of the whole of the property to which the application relates or of any part thereof.

Form, publication and duration of permission.

11. (1) Every permission granted under any of the foregoing sections shall be in writing signed by one of the Secretaries to the Local Government, and shall contain a description of the property or person in respect of which the permission is granted, sufficient to identify the same. [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 9.]

(2) Every such permission shall be published by notification, and shall remain in force until the expiry of twelve months from the date of the notification, or until the death of the applicant, whichever first happens.

Approval stamping and registration of settlements.

12. (1) No settlement made under this Act shall take effect unless the instrument of settlement— [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 10.]

(a) is of a non-testamentary character,

(b) is attested by two or more witnesses,

(c) has been approved by the Local Government before execution, and the fact of such approval having been given is certified on the instrument by one of the Secretaries to the Local Government, Ib

(d) is stamped as provided in sub-section (2), and

(e) is registered within three months after the said approval has been certified as aforesaid. Ib

(2) Every such instrument shall bear a stamp of a value equivalent to one-fourth of the annual net profits of the estate comprised in the settlement:

Provided that a stamp of one-third of such value may be affixed, with the previous sanction of the Board of Revenue, on arrangements being made to its satisfaction for the affixing of stamps for the rest of such value at subsequent dates within three years from the date of the instrument.

(The Bengal Settled Estates Bill.—Sections 13-18.)

(3) If any question arises, with reference to sub-section (2), as to the amount of the annual net profits of any estate, the decision of the Board of Revenue thereon shall be final.

(4) Subject to the foregoing provisions of this section, every such instrument shall take effect from the date of its registration. [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 13 (2).]

Notification of instruments of settlement.

13. When any instrument of settlement is registered, the registering-officer shall report the fact to the Local Government; and, on receipt of such report, the Local Government shall publish a notification stating the purport of the instrument and the office in which it has been registered. [Bill of 1893, cl. 4 (7).]

Abrogation of inconsistent laws.

14. No settlement duly made under this Act shall be liable to be avoided or set aside, and no provision therein shall be invalidated, by reason only that it contravenes—

(a) any provision of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, or IV of 1882.

(b) any law or rule for the time being in force for the prevention of perpetuities, or

(c) any family custom or any personal law or law of succession to which the family is subject.

(2) The Local Government, after considering the application, and the result of any inquiry made by it or under its orders, and any further particulars or information called for by it, may, in its discretion, by written order, either—

(a) reject the application, or

(b) grant the permission applied for, or

(c) grant permission to revoke the settlement as respects such property only as may be specified in the order.

Cancellation or amendment of settlement by Local Government.

16. (1) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Local Government may at any time declare by notification that any settlement made under this Act in respect of a settled estate shall be deemed— [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 14.]

(a) to be cancelled, or

(b) to be amended so as to exclude any portion of the estate described in the notification.

(2) On the publication of such notification the said settlement shall be deemed to be cancelled or amended as aforesaid, as the case may be.

Restrictions on alienation by tenant for life.

17. Except as provided in sections 18 and 19, a tenant for life of a settled estate shall not be entitled to sell, transfer, dispose of, alienate or convey, or to create any incumbrance upon, or to lease, the estate or any part thereof, or any of the profits thereof, for any greater interest or time than during his life. [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 15.]

Leases by tenant for life.

19. (1) A tenant for life of a settled estate may lease the estate or any part thereof from year to year or for any term not exceeding seven years, or (with the previous written consent of the Collector) for any term not exceeding fourteen years, or (with the previous sanction of the Local Government) for any longer term. [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 16.]

(2) No premium or fine shall be taken on any such lease except with the previous written consent of the Collector.

(3) When any premium or fine is so taken, the sum received shall be paid—

(a) to the trustee appointed in pursuance of section 9, sub-section (3), or

(b) if the settlement does not comprise money or moveable property, to a trustee to be appointed for the purpose; and shall be held by such trustee as part of the settled estate, and shall be invested by him in securities authorized by section 20 of the Indian Trusts Act, 1882. II of 1882.

(4) In respect of every such lease the best rent shall be reserved that can reasonably be obtained, and the rent shall be payable quarterly.

(5) No payment of any instalment of such rent made before it falls due shall operate to the prejudice of any successor in interest of the persons to whom the payment is made.

Saving of laws as to agricultural tenancies.

20. Nothing in sections 17, 18 and 19 shall affect the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, or any other law relating to agricultural tenancies. [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 19.] VIII of 1885.

Sale of settled estate for arrears of land-revenue, &c.

21. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Bengal Land Revenue Sales Act, 1859, or any other law, no settled estate or part of a settled estate shall, without the previous sanction of the Local Government, be sold, during the life of any tenant for life thereof for an arrear of land-revenue or for any other arrear which is recoverable in the same manner as an arrear of land-revenue. [Ben. Act IX of 1879, s. 23, cl. 1.] XI of 1859.

(2) If any settled estate or part of a settled estate be sold with the sanction required by sub-section (1), the resulting surplus shall be dealt with in the manner described in the proviso to section 18; and if the estate or any part thereof be purchased at the sale by the tenant for life, or by any person on his behalf, the same shall, notwithstanding the sale, continue to be subject to the settlement.

Procedure for recovery of such arrears.

22. (1) If any such arrear accrues in respect of a settled estate during the life of any tenant for life thereof, and if the sale of the estate or part thereof for the recovery of the arrear is not sanctioned by the Local Government under section 21, the Collector may attach the estate, [Ben. Act IX of 1879, s. 23 (3).]

and shall thereupon be entitled, to the exclusion of all other persons, to receive all rents and other moneys (if any) due to such tenant in respect of such estate, and may manage the estate, either directly or through a manager, for such period as may be necessary for the recovery of such arrear.

(2) Upon the expiration of the period referred to in sub-section (1), the Collector shall deduct from the proceeds of the management the amount of the said arrear and of any similar arrears that may have accrued during such period, and any interest due thereon, and the expenses incurred in the management, and shall then— [Ben. Act IX of 1879, s. 23, prov.]

(a) pay the balance of such proceeds to the person then entitled to hold the estate, and

(b) furnish such person with an account of the receipts and expenditure during the management, and

(c) release the estate to such person.

(The Bengal Settled Estates Bill.—Sections 23, 24.)

(3) If, after a settled estate held by a tenant for life has been managed and released by the Collector under sub-sections (1) and (2), any such arrear as aforesaid again accrues in respect of the estate during the life of the same tenant, and if the sale of the estate or part thereof for the recovery of the arrear is not sanctioned by the Local Government under section 21, the Court of Wards may take charge of and deal with the estate under the provisions of the Court of Wards Act, 1879; and shall, notwithstanding anything contained in that Act, retain such charge until the death of such tenant and, if his successor is then a minor, until such minor attains his majority; Ben. Act IX of 1879.

and the said tenant shall, from the date when the Court of Wards so takes charge of the estate, and during his life, be debarred from receiving any income from the estate other than such monthly sum as the Court of Wards may allow for the support of himself and his family; and the powers conferred by sections 18 and 19 of this Act shall, during the life of the said tenant, be exercisable by the Court of Wards and not by the said tenant.

Notifications how to be published.

23. Every notification prescribed by this Act shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette and also in such Vernacular Gazettes (if any) as the Local Government may direct. [U. P. Act II of 1900, ss. 5, 9, (3), 13 (3), 14.]

Power to make rules.

24. (1) The Local Government may, after previous publication, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act. [U. P. Act II of 1900, s. 20.]

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing provision, the Local Government may make rules for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the procedure to be followed in submitting an application to the Local Government under this Act;

(b) the form and contents of such applications, and the documents (if any) which should accompany them;

(c) the guidance of the Collector in managing estates attached under section 22;

(d) the payment or recovery of any expenses incurred by the Government in connection with any proceedings taken under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE desirability of undertaking legislation for the family settlement of immoveable property in Bengal, with the object of preserving old or wealthy families from decay, maintaining their territorial influence, and preventing the subdivision of estates of historical and political importance, has long been under the consideration of Government. After a prolonged discussion of the matter between the Government of India, the Bengal Government and some of the leading Associations of landholders and individuals most closely concerned, sanction has been obtained for the introduction of a Bill in the Local Legislative Council, subject to the approval of His Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

2. The object of the Bill is to make provision in special cases approved by Government for preserving the continuity of noble and influential families whose estates are not protected by the existing law from division on the decease of the proprietor.

3. The principal provisions of the Bill are as follows:—

(a) Any qualified landholder may apply for permission to make a settlement of his estate under the Act, but it will be in the absolute discretion of Government to accept or reject such application (clauses 3 and 4).

(b) Provision is made for the notification of applications under the Act, for the consideration of objections, and for the discharge of incumbrances (clauses 5 and 6).

(c) Settlement is limited to three generations, including the settlor. If the eldest or only son is excluded, good reasons must be shown and must be approved by Government (clause 7).

(d) The settlement must provide for the maintenance of widows, unmarried daughters, and other relations of the settlor (clause 9).

(e) Settlements must be of a non-testamentary character, and must be attested and registered (clause 12).

(f) Instruments of settlement will be subject to a stamp duty equivalent to ¼th of the annual net profits of the estates settled. The Board of Revenue may allow realisation of this stamp duty to be spread over a period not exceeding three years (clause 12).

(g) A settlement may be revoked with the consent of Government (clause 15).

(h) Alienations and leases by the tenant for life are restricted (clauses 17 and 19). Sales may be made only with the previous consent of Government, and sale proceeds must be paid to the Official Trustee or District officer in order to be re-invested in immoveable property which will be subject to the conditions of the original settlement (clause 18).

(i) The sanction of Government will be required to the sale under Act XI of 1859 of settled estates for arrears of land revenue or other arrears recoverable as arrears of land revenue (clause 21).

POLICE.

Dated Darjeeling, the 14th July 1903.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Police Administration of the Town of Calcutta and its Suburbs for the year 1902.

Read also—

The Reports for the two previous years and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

Mr. R. A. D'O. Bignell held charge of the office of Commissioner of Police during the year, with the exception of the period from the 1st to the 15th of January, when Mr. F. L. Halliday acted for him. The only change in the sanctioned strength of the Calcutta Police was the entertainment of an additional force of 1 Inspector, 3 European constables, and 24 native officers and men for the purpose of regulating the traffic on and around the Howrah Bridge.

2. The discipline of the large force, which numbered 3,262 officers and men, was on the whole satisfactory, and departmental punishments decreased. On the other hand, judicial punishments increased from 11 to 20 and dismissals from 65 to 90, the former figures in each case being those of the previous year.

3. The total number of cognizable cases of all classes was 29,604 as against 25,115 in 1901. In these figures, however, are included a large number of offences of a petty nature, and in an examination of the serious crime of Calcutta the cases which fall under Class VI of the prescribed statements may be excluded. These relate to various petty offences, the larger proportion of which are infractions of the Police Act, the Nuisance laws, and the Cruelty to Animals Act. Under this head there was an increase of 4,784 cases as compared with the figures of the preceding year. Excluding such offences, 4,926 cognizable cases were reported as against 5,221 of the preceding year—a satisfactory decrease.

Of the 720 cognizable cases instituted before a Magistrate, 151 were dismissed without summoning the accused, while of the remainder only 92 ended in conviction—a percentage of 12·7 on institutions.

Of the police cases, 2,393 were sent up for trial, of which 1,934, or 80·8 per cent., ended in conviction. These latter figures indicate that the Calcutta Police have on the whole shown commendable discretion in sending up cases for trial.

The results of investigations of murder cases were not entirely satisfactory, as in 4 out of 11 cases the offenders were not detected.

4. The institutions under the Police Act, which betrayed such a remarkable decrease last year, have risen again to what may be regarded as an approach to the normal figure. They were 8,628 as against 5,809 in 1901, 10,037 in 1900, and 11,098 in 1899.

The rise no doubt indicates a return of confidence to the police force, especially in dealing with offences relating to traffic, to the lack of which the Commissioner of Police last year attributed the decrease in the number of offences reported. In view of the remarkable fluctuations in these cases, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the superior officers of the Calcutta Police will carefully control and scrutinize the action of their subordinates in connection with charges under this Act.

A considerable decrease in the number of cases under the Cruelty to Animals Act is noticeable. These cases numbered 5,554 as against 6,294. No explanation is given of this decrease, which it would perhaps be too sanguine to assign to the beneficent operation of the Act alone.

5. The total number of offenders who were tried by the Courts in whose cases proof of previous conviction was admissible was 2,667, of whom 1,993 were convicted. No less than 837 persons convicted were old offenders, against whom previous convictions were proved, i.e., 42 per cent. of the total number convicted. If cases of theft by a servant, and criminal breach of trust,—crimes which are rarely attended by previous conviction, and which numbered 1,095—be excluded, the percentage would be even more striking. These figures establish beyond doubt that those who commit crimes against property in Calcutta are professional criminals. Out of the 837 persons previously convicted, no fewer than 491 had two or more convictions, and 100 had already been convicted on five previous occasions. In these circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor observes with much surprise and regret that only 30 of these offenders were committed to the Sessions. The Penal Code has given to the superior Courts the power to sentence to prolonged periods of imprisonment offenders whose past histories show that they habitually prey on the property of their fellow-citizens, and it is essential that when these pests of society are convicted, they should be severely punished. It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that the figures just quoted primâ facie indicate that the Magistracy of Calcutta have been too ready to deal summarily with old offenders who should have been committed to the Sessions Court.

6. One hundred and thirty-one cases were declared false, a considerable increase on the figures of the two preceding years, viz., 82 and 73, respectively. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, moreover, that in 13 cases only were proceedings instituted, as a result of which 1 accused was fined and 5 were sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from one to three months. These figures warrant the conclusion that the police were overcautious in instituting such prosecutions, and the Courts unduly lenient in dealing with the offence when established. The difficulty of obtaining a conviction on a charge of instituting a false case is no doubt great, but when in 90 per cent. of the cases the persons against whom this offence is established before the police escape all consequences of their acts, the conclusion seems irresistible that caution is pushed too far: and having regard to the apparently light punishments inflicted in the cases which ended in conviction, the serious character of the offence seems to have been hardly sufficiently apprehended by the Courts.

7. Fourteen thousand six hundred and thirty-eight non-cognizable cases were instituted during the year. The number pending at the commencement of the year was 1,013, and at the close of the year 1,550 cases were pending. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with dissatisfaction the large increase in the number of pending cases. On examining the figures of pending cases, it appears that no less than 1,308 cases out of 1,550 remained under investigation otherwise than by the police. Such discredit as these figures suggest, must fall therefore on the Courts and not on the police.

8. The report in its revised form was not received by Government till the 30th of June. It was due on the 30th of April, and thus was two months late. It is within the prescribed limit of 15 pages, but it might be rearranged and perhaps curtailed with advantage.

9. His Honour's thanks are due to the Commissioner and his subordinate officers for their efficient control of a difficult and important department during the year.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; ~, due.

N. B.—In the monthly abstract from 5th to 11th July 1903 read 0·10 for nil as rain on the 5th July 1903, and for the total rain from 5th to 11th July 1903 read 0·48 for 0·38, and for the total fall from 1st January to 11th July 1903 read 17·64 for 17·54.

The advertisement shall state the day on which the petition was presented, and the name and address of the petitioner, and of his attorney or pleader (if any).

3. Every such petition shall, unless presented by the Company, be served at the registered office (if any) of the Company, and if there be no registered office, then at the principal or last-known principal place of business of the Company, if any such can be found, upon any member, officer, or servant of the Company there; or in case no such member, officer, or servant can be found there, then by being left at such registered office or principal place of business, or by being served on such member or members of the Company as the Court may direct. And such copy shall be furnished within 24 hours after the same shall have been applied for.

ORDER TO WIND UP COMPANY.

6. Every order for the winding up of a Company by the Court, or subject to its supervision, shall, within twelve days after the date thereof, be advertised by the petitioner once in the Gazette of India and once in the Calcutta Gazette, and otherwise as the Court may direct, and shall be served upon such persons (if any) and in such manner as the Court may direct.

Upon such application the Judge shall issue a summons for proceeding with the winding up of the Company, to be served upon all parties who may have appeared upon the hearing of the petition. Upon the return of such summons, a time shall be fixed for the appointment of an Official Liquidator, for the proof of debts and for bringing in the list of contributories. Directions may be given as to the advertisements to be issued for all or any of such purposes, and generally as to the proceedings, and the parties to attend thereon. The proceedings under the order shall be continued by adjournment, and, when necessary, by further summons, and any such direction as aforesaid may be given, added to, or varied, at any subsequent time, as may be found necessary.

OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR.

8. The Judge may appoint a person to the office of Official Liquidator without previous advertisement, or notice to any party, or may fix a time and place for the appointment of an Official Liquidator, and may appoint or reject any person nominated at such time and place, and appoint any person not so nominated.

9. When a time and place are fixed for the appointment of an Official Liquidator, such time and place shall be advertised in such manner as the Judge shall direct, so that the first or only advertisement shall be published within fourteen days and not less than seven days before the day so fixed.

10. Every Official Liquidator shall give security by entering into a recognizance with two or more sufficient sureties, or by depositing Government securities, to such amount as the Judge may approve.

11. The Official Liquidator shall be appointed by order, and unless he shall have given security a time shall be fixed by such order within which he is to do so, and the order shall fix the times or periods at which the Official Liquidator is to bring into Court his accounts of his receipts and payments, and shall direct that all moneys to be received shall be paid into the Bank of Bengal, or into Court, immediately after the receipt thereof, to "the account of the Official Liquidator of the Company," and an account shall be opened accordingly, and if the money is payable into the Bank of Bengal, an office copy of the order shall be lodged with the said Bank.

12. When an Official Liquidator has given security pursuant to the directions in the order appointing him, the same shall be certified by the Judge or Registrar.

13. The Official Liquidator shall, on each occasion of passing his accounts, and also whensoever the Judge may so require, satisfy the Judge that his sureties are living and resident in British India, and have not become insolvent or been adjudged bankrupt, and in default thereof he may be required to enter into fresh security, or to deposit Government securities within such time and to such amount as shall be directed.

14. Every appointment of an Official Liquidator shall be advertised, in such manner as the Judge shall direct, immediately after he has been appointed and has given security.

15. Where it is desired to appoint provisionally an Official Liquidator, an application for that purpose may, at any time after the presentation of the petition for winding up the Company, be made by petition without advertisement or notice to any person unless the Judge shall otherwise direct. Such Provisional Official Liquidator may, if the Judge shall think fit, be appointed without security.

16. In case of the death, removal, or resignation of an Official Liquidator, another shall be appointed in his room, in the same manner as directed in the case of a first appointment, and the proceedings for that purpose may be taken by such party interested as may be authorized by the Judge to take the same.

17. The Official Liquidator shall, with all convenient speed after he is appointed, proceed to make up, continue, complete, and rectify the books of account of the Company; and shall provide and keep such books of account as shall be necessary, or as the Judge may direct, for the purposes aforesaid, and for showing the debts and credits of the Company, including a ledger which shall contain the separate accounts of the contributories, and in which every contributory shall be debited from time to time with the amount payable by him in respect of any call to be made, as provided by the said Act and these rules.

18. The Official Liquidator shall be allowed in his accounts, or otherwise paid, such amount by way of salary or remuneration as the Judge may, from time to time, direct, and the sum so fixed is to cover the expenses of the employment of assistants or clerks by the Official Liquidator, unless the Judge shall otherwise order. Such salary or remuneration may be fixed either at the time of the appointment or at any time thereafter, as the Judge may think fit. Every allowance of such salary or remuneration, unless made at the time of the appointment, or upon passing an account, shall be made upon application for that purpose by the Official Liquidator, on notice to such persons (if any), and supported by such evidence as the Judge shall require. Provided, nevertheless, that the Judge may, from time to time, allow any sum he may think fit to the Official Liquidator on account of the salary or remuneration to be thereafter fixed.

19. The accounts of the Official Liquidator shall be filed in Court at the times directed by the order appointing him, and at such other times as may, from time to time, be required by the Judge; and such accounts shall, upon notice to such parties (if any), as the Judge shall direct, be verified and passed in the same manner as Receivers' accounts.

PROOF OF DEBTS.

20. For the purpose of ascertaining the debts and claims due from the Company and of requiring the creditors to come in and prove their debts or claims, an advertisement shall be issued at such time as the Judge shall direct; such advertisement shall fix a time for the creditors to send their names and addresses, and the particulars of their debts or claims, and the names and addresses of the attorneys or pleaders (if any), to the Official Liquidator, and appoint a day for adjudicating thereon.

21. Creditors whose claims are not disputed need not attend upon the adjudication, nor prove their debts or claims.

Any creditor or creditors receiving notice from the Official Liquidator that his or their debts or claims are disputed, must come in and prove the same within a time to be specified in the notice.

22. The Official Liquidator shall investigate the debts and claims sent in to him, and ascertain, so far as he is able, which of such debts and claims are justly due from the Company; and he shall make out and file in Court a list of all the debts and claims sent into him, distinguishing which of the debts and claims, or parts of debts and claims, are, in his opinion, justly due and proper to be allowed without further evidence, and which of them, in his opinion, ought to be proved by the creditors; and he shall make and file, prior to the time appointed for adjudication, an affidavit or written statement verified by oath or affirmation setting forth which of the debts and claims, in his opinion, are justly due and proper to be allowed without further evidence, and stating his belief that such debts and claims are justly due and proper to be allowed, and the reasons for such belief.

23. At the time appointed for adjudicating upon the debts and claims, or at any adjournment thereof, the Judge may either allow the debts and claims, upon the affidavit or verified statement of the Official Liquidator, or may require the same, or any of them, to be proved by the claimants, and adjourn the adjudication thereon to a time to be then fixed; and the Official Liquidator shall give notice of such allowance to the creditors whose debts or claims have been allowed.

24. The Official Liquidator shall give notice to the creditors whose debts or claims have not been allowed, upon his affidavit or statement, that they are required to come in and prove the same by a day to be named in the notice, being not less than four days after such notice, and to attend at a time to be therein named, being the time appointed by the advertisement, or by adjournment (as the case may be) for adjudicating upon such debts and claims.

25. The value of all contingent debts and claims admissible to proof shall, so far as is possible, be estimated according to the value thereof, at the date of the order to wind up the Company.

26. Interest on such debts and claims as shall be allowed shall be computed, as to such of them as carry interest, after the rate they respectively carry.

27. Such creditors as come in and prove their debts or claims pursuant to notice, from the Official Liquidator, shall be allowed their costs of proof, in the same manner as in the case of debts proved in a suit.

28. The result of the adjudication upon debts and claims shall be stated in a certificate to be signed by the Judge, and certificates as to any of such debts and claims may be made from time to time. All such certificates shall state whether the debts or claims are allowed or disallowed, and whether allowed as against any particular assets, or in any other qualified or special manner.

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORIES.

29. The Official Liquidator shall, with all convenient speed, after his appointment or at such time as the Judge shall direct, make out and file in Court a list of the contributories of the Company; and such list shall be verified by the oath or solemn affirmation of the Official Liquidator, and shall, so far as is practicable, state the respective addresses, and the number of shares or extent of interest to be attributed to each such contributory, and distinguish the several classes of contributories. And such list may, from time to time, by leave of the Judge, be varied or added to by the Official Liquidator.

30. Upon the list of contributories being filed in Court, the Official Liquidator shall obtain an appointment for the Judge to settle the same, and shall give notice in writing of such appointment to every person included in such list, stating in what character, and for what number of shares or interest, such person is included in the list; and in case any variation or addition to such list shall at any time be made by the Official Liquidator, a similar notice in writing shall be given to every person affected by such variation or addition. All such notices shall be served four clear days before the day appointed to settle such list, or such variation or addition.

31. The result of the settlement of the list of contributories shall be stated in a certificate signed by the Judge; and certificates may be made from time to time, for the purpose of stating the result of such settlement down to any particular time, or as to any particular person, or stating any variation of the list.

SALES OF PROPERTY.

32. Any moveable or immoveable property belonging to the Company may be sold, with the approbation of the Judge, in such manner as the Judge shall direct and the Judge may, on any sale by public auction, fix a reserved bidding, and unless on account of the small amount of the purchase-moneys or other cause it shall, having regard to the amount of the security given by the Official Liquidator, be thought proper that the purchase-moneys shall be paid to him, all conditions and contracts of sale shall provide that the purchase-moneys shall be paid by the respective purchasers into the Bank of Bengal, or into Court, to the account of the Official Liquidator of the Company.

CALLS.

33. Every application to the Court to make any call on the contributories or any of them for any purpose authorised by the said Act, shall be made by petition stating the proposed amount of such call, and such petition shall be served four clear days at the least before the day appointed for making the call, on every contributory effected by such call, or if the Judge shall so direct in lieu of service of notice, on the individual contributories or any of them. Notice of such intended call may be given by advertisement, or such other public notification as the Judge in his discretion may think sufficient.

34. When any order for a call has been made, a copy of such order shall be forthwith served upon each of the contributories included in such call, together with a notice from the Official Liquidator specifying the amount due from such contributory in respect of such call; but such order need not be advertised unless, for any special reason, the Judge shall so direct.

35. At the time of making an order for a call, the further proceedings relating thereto shall be adjourned to a time subsequent to the day appointed for the payment thereof and afterwards from time to time, so long as may be necessary; and at the time appointed by any such adjournment, or upon a summons to enforce payment of the call duly served, and upon proof of the service of the order and notice of the amount due, and non-payment, an order may be made for all or any of the contributories who have made default to pay the sum which by such former order and notice they were respectively required to pay, or any less sum which may appear to be due from them respectively.

38. All orders for payment of calls, balances, or other moneys due from any contributory or other person, shall direct the same to be paid into the Bank of Bengal, or into Court, to the account of the Official Liquidator of the Company, unless, on account of the smallness of the amount or other cause it shall (having regard to the amount of the security given by the Official Liquidator) be thought proper to direct payment thereof to the Official Liquidator. Provided that where any such order has been made directing payment of a specific sum into the Bank of Bengal, or into Court, in case it shall be proper for the purpose of enabling the Official Liquidator to issue execution, or take other proceedings to enforce the payment thereof, or for any other reason, an order may, either before service of such former order, or after the time thereby fixed for payment, be made without notice for payment of the same sum to the Official Liquidator.

signed by the Official Liquidator, and countersigned by or under an order to be made by the Judge.

Upon the application of W. N. to review the List of Contributories of the said Company, in respect of the inclusion of the said W. No. 29.—Affidavit of Official Liquidator in support of proposal for Call (Rule 33).

I have, in the Schedule now produced and shown to me, and marked with the letter A, set forth a statement showing the amount due in respect of the debts allowed against the said Company, and the estimated amount of the costs, charges, and expenses of and incidental to the winding up the affairs thereof, and which several amounts form in the aggregate the sum of Rs. , or thereabouts.

There are no other assets belonging to the said Company, except the amounts due from certain of the contributories of the said Company, and, to the best of my information and belief, it will be impossible to realize in respect of the said amounts more than the sum of Rs or thereabouts.

5. In order to provide the said sum of Rs , it is necessary to make a call upon the several persons who have been settled on the List of Contributories as before mentioned, and having regard to the probability that some of such contributories will partly or wholly fail to pay the amount of such call, I believe that, for the purpose of realizing the amount required as before mentioned, it is necessary that a call of Rs. per share should be made.

RE-IMPORTATION OF RIFLES OF MILITARY PATTERN.

No. 2752, dated Simla, the 20th July 1903.

From—A. WILLIAMS, Esq., Deputy Secretary to the Govt. of India, Home Dept.,
To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

I AM directed to refer to the correspondence ending with your letter No. 96J.D., dated the 17th April 1903, on the subject of the re-importation of rifles of military pattern.

2. In reply, I am to say that the Governor-General in Council has decided that the re-importation of such weapons should be permitted subject to the following conditions, viz.—

(1) that the examination of the arms at the Custom House at the time of export shall be compulsory;

(2) that, as a general rule, export passes giving a full description of the weapons to be exported shall be obtained from the Collector of Customs by the persons exporting the weapons;

(3) that these passes shall be accepted by the Collector of Customs as the best proof of export on the weapons being satisfactorily identified at the time of re-importation; and

(4) that, in cases in which such export passes have not been obtained, it will rest with the Collector of Customs personally to accept such other proof of export as he may consider reasonable and proper.

3. The Government of India will be glad if the Collector of Customs is required to submit a monthly return of the weapons imported under these provisions. I am to request that, with the permission of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, the necessary instructions may be issued to the Customs authorities, and steps taken to make the orders known to the public.

General Summary.—Rainfall was general throughout the Province, but not evenly distributed. More rain is urgently needed in the Burdwan, Presidency, Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions and in some districts of the Rajshahi, Chittagong, and Chota Nagpur Divisions, except in the districts of Noakhali, Patna, Shahabad, and Monghyr, where standing crops are suffering badly for want of rain prospects are generally fair. Harvesting of early rice and jute continues. Transplantation of winter rice continues, but is very backward in most districts for want of rain, and in a few has altogether been stopped. Paddy is being damaged by insects in parts of Midnapore. Cattle-disease reported from nine districts. Fodder and water generally sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in 11 districts, has fallen in seven and is stationary in the rest.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.
